

CHILDHOOD CANCER - November 2020

Signs of Childhood Cancer

- Continued, unexplained weight loss
- Headaches, often with early morning vomiting
- Increased swelling or persistent pain in bones, joints, back or legs
- Lump or mass, especially in the abdomen, armpits, pelvis, chest or neck
- Development of excessive bruising, bleeding or rash

- Constant infections
- A whitish color behind the pupil
- Nausea which persists or vomiting without nausea
- Constant tiredness or noticeable paleness
- Eye or vision changes which occur suddenly and persist
- Recurrent or persistent fevers of unknown origin

It is important to be aware of the symptoms of childhood cancer. Observe children for any sudden, persistent changes in health or behavior as listed to the left. Doctors, parents and others who work closely with children must trust their instincts and work together to protect children's health.
