HELLO FELLOW LIONS AND LEOS,

My wife and I are back from the International Convention in Montreal. We had a great time. I attended three days of classes and we went to four days of the convention. On Saturday we walked in the Lions parade. Our multiple was pretty impressive with the large group that participated in the parade.

I am putting together the cabinet for the year. Most spots are filled; I need two Childhood Cancer chairs and one Hearing Foundation chair. I also need a few zone chairs. I hope to fill these spots soon. Our first cabinet meeting will be on Thursday August 4th. It will be at the Ham Lake bowling alley at six P.M. The address is 16465 MN-65, Ham Lake. We have a 1VDG Lion Peter Lendway was appointed by a coalition of PDG's during IPDG Judy Herrala's term. Lion Mary Curtis is our 2VDG. Please call me if you have any questions on this. I would like the foundation chairs to have a report to give at the cabinet meeting. I will be setting up zone meetings after the cabinet meeting. I would like club presidents to contact me and set up governor visits.

I would like to tell you a little about myself. I grew up on a small dairy farm one and a half miles north of Saint Augusta, Mn. I have 11 siblings. When I was young our farm house was heated by wood and it wasn't insulated very well. We slept on the second floor and used a five gallon pail for a porta-potty. During cold winter nights the contents of this pail would freeze solid. I went to a Catholic parochial school run by Benedictine nuns. I think most teachers would agree with me when I say that you only remember your really good students and the really bad troublemakers. I didn't fall into the first category with these nuns. If I could go back in time I would and apologize to them. I left home at 15 and lived with my uncle for the next three years. My twin brother and I were getting into trouble and my dad wisely split us up. My uncle also farmed and I became his hired hand. I wanted to go to college and become a teacher when I graduated from high school. My dad and I had an agreement; if I could figure out a way to pay for my first two years of college he would help me with my last two. He then told me he thought I was wasting my time, I would never make it. It gave me the spunk to never give up and I did get my B.S. in Education. I got lucky that first summer out of high school and landed a job with a large concrete paving contractor. In four years I was made a foreman. By sixteen years I'd started my own concrete curb company which I ran for 30 years before retiring. I met my wife while working road construction 45 years ago. We have two sons, both are married and they gave us four beautiful grandkids. We are a close family and enjoy getting together each week for dinner. I garden, play 60 and over softball, ski and I hunt and fish with my sons.

Enough about myself. I have a number of things that I would like to accomplish this year. I want to bring back a fun and informative mid-winter convention. I want to establish a policy manual for our district; we don't have one. We are missing a lot of information that needs to be passed from one governor to the next. I want to build membership across our district. Help me out. I will never give up trying to make our district better. DG Mark Landwehr

LEADERSHIP MESSAGES

Greetings Lions and Leos of 5M7!

I've been 2VDG for less than a month and preparing for my role as DG has begun in full force. I am taking to heart advice received from PIP Tan - Prepare, prepare, prepare. I want to be armed with knowledge and ready to serve with you in Lionism. I am soaking in as much as I can!

An important thing we need to be better at as Lions is Communication! We are our own best kept secret. Take advantage of free social media platforms. (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram) Use them to advertise your service projects. Like and follow your neighboring clubs and share their projects for a wider service base. Use this venue right here...The 5M7 GRAM. Send our editor Lion Judie Zasko (5m7gram@gmail.com) information for publication. Share this publication with your club members. Contact our 5M7 Webmaster (5m7web@gmail.com) to get your event on the district calendar. Utilize the resources available to you.

DG Mark has his first cabinet meeting the first week of August. Zone meetings are sure to follow. I look forward to attending as many zone and club meetings as possible. I want to meet you and hear about your successes and concerns. I am here to serve you and help you serve your community. I am excited for the next three years as part of your governor team. 2VDG Lion Mary Curtis

There is something called the Global Action Team, (GAT) The leader of this team at the district level is the Governor, Lion Mark Landwehr. In the club, it is the President. There are three parts to this team:

Global Leadership Team (GLT)-Lion Orville Lindquist

Global Membership Team (GMT)-Lion Judy Herrala

Global Service Team (GST)-Lion Cathy McCauley

These three things, Leadership, Membership and Service are what we as Lions do. So they are very important parts of the cabinet in all levels of the organization.

There are pages on the LCI website which has all of the information needed to learn about the GLT, GMT, and GST positions. <https://www.lionsclubs.org/en/resources-for-members/resource-center/gst-toolbox>

Chairperson/s serve at the district and multiple district levels, and are appointed by the district governor or council chairperson, respectively. Childhood Cancer Chairperson/s support Lions and Leos engaged or interested in projects to expand access to life-saving treatment and provide support to the children and families who face childhood cancers. They may collaborate with leadership throughout the organization, including the Global Service Team (GST). They will become the topic expert for your district/multiple district by learning about childhood cancers. They will become familiar with childhood cancer via the World Health Organization (WHO): Questions and Answers about Childhood Cancers.

Paul and Zeke

Paul, a retired chef, is used to managing busy kitchens. But in 2010, when he contracted Methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus, managing his health became overwhelming. After a foot amputation, a broken back, the development of neuropathy in his hands, and more physical traumas, Paul realized he needed a new recipe for comfort and safety.

Admittedly stubborn, Paul says he originally “fought tooth and nail” against the idea of getting a service dog. Once persistent friends and doctors were able to change his mind, Mobility Assist Dog Zeke began to blend into Paul’s life. “Now, you couldn’t take him away from me if you tried,” says Paul.

With so little feeling in his hands, Paul is constantly dropping items, and his prosthetic leg makes balancing while bending down to pick things up precarious. He has become pretty creative with how he has used his cane to retrieve keys, his phone and other necessities. Zeke, though, has proven to be a much more reliable retriever, especially when it’s the cane that needs retrieving. Paul says, “Not having to strain to get something is quite beneficial.”

Paul states that adding Zeke into the mix of his daily activities has given him “almost a 100% turnaround,” allowing him to be more active. They love to walk together, whether outside or around stores. Paul explains that Zeke enjoys maintaining physical contact so much with him that he will touch his chin to Paul’s knee even while they are walking through the grocery store. “The old ladies get a kick out of that,” he shares.

Paul has plans to be able to go fishing with Zeke by his side. He’s already envisioning the large umbrella he will set up to shade them both while he casts from shore or a dock.

His enthusiasm for the training process isn’t measured in the least. “I was very impressed,” he says. “I wouldn’t hesitate to recommend Can Do Canines to anyone.” Volunteers that Paul has met have also stirred feelings within him. He says of seeing them interact with the dogs, “It’s like they’re handling their own kids.”

The people in Paul’s life have noticed a remarkable change in him since Zeke came on the scene. Paul says, “They say I’m not as stressed as I used to be.”

The Importance of Children's Vision

According to educational experts, 80% of learning is visual. If children can't see well, they will have more difficulty learning. One of the primary threats to young children's vision has always been 'lazy eye' - a layperson's term for Amblyopia.

Amblyopia and its related issues need to be detected by age 6 in order to have the best chance of being corrected through proven therapeutic approaches, such as short-term patching, through the use of prescription eyeglasses, or, possibly surgery. To put the size of the challenge in some context, up to 5% of all children will have some degree of amblyopia, and up to 30% of all young people will eventually develop poor vision that will require prescription eyewear.

The Challenge is Increasing: With the transition to more and more 'remote' learning on tiny screens - and a decrease in outdoor playtime - there is mounting evidence that children at younger and younger ages are developing myopia and other vision challenges. Fact is, 1-in-3 young children naturally have poor but correctable vision - often just needing eyeglasses. Seems to be happening at younger ages in recent years. Increased screen time and decreasing outdoor playtime is partially to blame. Bottom-line, children can - and should --- receive a basic, touchless, digital vision screening as young as 6 months. It's now super easy, proven, and very effective at detecting early vision challenges that need professional care.

Join the Service: Many Thanks to the clubs doing screenings in their schools and at their community events. Your youth and their parents also thank you! Are you or your club interested in KidSight? Contact us! We LOVE sharing the wonderful service project of KidSight. We'd be overjoyed to show your club how you can screen your community children. The SEE CLEARLY 2022 Campaign has begun. As stated in last months article, Montrose and Spring Lake Park were recognized as two of the TOP TEN CLUBS in the United States for the SEE CLEARLY 2021 Campaign! Let's see if we can top that this year! Contact us for more information.

The Great Minnesota Get Together (Minnesota

State Fair) is upon us! KidSight will be providing free vision screening to youth in the KARE 11 Health Fair building every day. We will be manning the booth on Monday August 29 and Tuesday August 30. We still have opportunities for you to join us! There are also open shifts throughout the fair should a different day work better for you. No experience needed! There are foundation directors in charge each day that will teach you what you need to know for your shift. You will receive free fair admission compliments of KARE 11. Contact us with any questions. Vision screening is not the goal; it is the method we use to reach our goal of every child seeing clearly!

"BELIEVE AND BE HEARD"

This is our motto for this next year. Our goal is to make sure that Minnesota Lions know about our mission and vision—to help those with hearing needs through education, research and promotion. Our plan is to continue with the projects we now have and add a couple of new ones, including researching devices for screening hearing in both young and old, similar to the Kidsight outreach. We also are in the process of making affordable hearing aid applications more available. We also ask that each club become more active in their communities to locate those with hearing needs so we can serve them.

Please welcome Lion Mike Benedetto from the Monticello Lions who will be heading up the Minnesota Hearing Foundation West. DG Lion Mark is still seeking someone who would like to represent Minnesota Hearing Foundation East. If you are interested, please contact DG Mark.

*Loss of vision removed me from things, loss of hearing removed
me from people.*

SUMMER SCHEDULE

Summer has few more weeks before the Leos clubs in 5m7 gather to start planning for the year. For the Leos, August still brings a chance to work the state fair at the midway, open houses and a new first day of school. We are excited to see all the amazing projects our youth will imagine and how much they have given to our communities. Watch for more opportunities to get involved in all these great projects. As always, if you are interested in starting a Leo club, please contact us and we would love to help start the process.

5M7 YOUTH EXCHANGE

Youth Exchange is excited to have welcomed 20 youth from twelve different countries. Most youth arrived the 1st of July. The young people were welcomed by their host families all over the multiple. They have experienced small town life and large city living. We gathered all youth together on Saturday, July 23rd in St. Cloud to celebrate cultures. The youth prepared a dish to share with the current, and past Governors as well as chair members. This was the start to the beginning of camp for the week. 5m7 had one youth that was hosted in the district. Youth leave to go back to their countries the first week in August. Look at your calendars now to host a young person who has come from afar during the month of July 2023. Lion Stefanie Nelson 612-298-1523 stefanieenelson@gmail.com

MINNESOTA LIONS DIABETES FOUNDATION, INC.

"Catch the Dream" – Life Without Diabetes!

I first would like to say a huge THANK YOU to Lion Joel Anderson for his 6 years of service to the MN Lions Diabetes Foundation (MLDF). For the past six years Lion Joel has worked tirelessly for the MLDF on behalf of district 5m7. I have watched him do presentations and watched him work in our district to spread the word of this foundation. I have always been amazed with his service in this district as a leader and as a great Lion in his Lions Club in Coon Rapids. Thank you Lion Joel for all you do and have done for this foundation. I have big shoes to fill while being a co-trustee for this diabetes foundation. Thank you to Lion Mike Edwards for your past year on this foundation. Thank you for jumping right in there to do the work of the foundation and now your work as a co-treasurer of this foundation. I look forward to working with you here.

Last weekend a training was provided for all trustees, a tour of the Schulze lab where the research takes place was held at the U of M campus, and our first foundation meeting took place. The MLDF is doing amazing things in amazing ways and we want to share this with our Lions and Leos. The Mission Statement of this foundation says it all. Here it is: "The Minnesota Lions Diabetes Foundation, Inc. is dedicated to improving the quality of life for people with diabetes by funding research to cure diabetes, providing education and sponsoring preventative health activities."

Lion Mike and I are going to be asking for your help this year to continue this mission. We want you to ask us for our help in talking with your clubs about the foundation. We can visit your clubs and your zones to update you on the work of our MN Lions Diabetes Foundation. We can attend community events to talk with your community about diabetes. We can help your club staff a diabetes table at an event. We will also be asking for donations for the Diabetes Foundation to keep the work of the foundation going.

I am hoping we can share projects we do with diabetes in our communities. I will keep records of ALL diabetes projects taking place in our district so we can share and get ideas from each other. Please share with us what your club does for diabetes and stay tuned for more information from Lions Mike and I going forward.

ENVIRONMENTAL NEWS

Lion Judie Zaske

When we talk about lawns, we're talking about an American tradition. The bigger, most beautiful lawns are cherished by many. In our previous issue, we talked about changes we can make that are a bit more environmentally friendly as well as just a change in mindset.

To be sure, lawns are not the only detrimental yard feature. A concrete patio, which comes with its own carbon emissions from concrete production has no ecological benefit at all. So ripping out a lawn and paving it over would not be helpful. But what should you replace it with? Most experts suggest simply reducing the amount of space dedicated to grass and swapping in some bigger plants that will absorb more carbon and water. A tree that provides shade also reduces the amount of water that evaporates from the remaining lawn, meaning that it should require less water. Ideally, some scientists say, only people living in regions wet enough to grow grass without additional watering would have lawns and residents of drier regions would plant less thirsty native species like cactus.

There are lower impact ways of caring for a lawn. Using only manual tools, like a push mower or electric ones will remove the emission from a two stroke engine. Good advice if you're young enough and strong enough to use a push mower and rich enough to use an electric mower. According to the Electric Power Research Institute, replacing half of gas mowers in the US with electric mowers would save as much emissions as taking 2 million cars off the road. Taking a more natural approach to lawn management like cutting it less often, skipping the week killer and letting the clovers and dandelions grow would also minimize the impact. Getting your city to do a NO MOW MAY would also help. Some state and local governments are responding to complaints about the noise of gas-powered mowers and leaf blowers as much as the emissions by phasing them out through in the state over a period of time.

As our environment continues to change, we need to look at ways to change our way of thinking. Right now we use lawns as a default landscape. We put a few plants in our yard and everything else becomes lawn. Maybe what we should be doing is having a lot of plants and what's left over becomes lawn.

JUMPING WORM

Jumping worms are a type of earthworm. They are called "jumping worms" because of their unusual behavior when disturbed, they move like a snake and sometimes appear to be jumping. A light-colored ring extends around the body and may be more prominent than in other earthworms.

Jumping worms live and feed in the leaf litter layer on the soil surface and in the top few inches of the soil, but do not create burrows. They produce cocoons in late summer and early autumn. Then the adults die and the cocoon stage survives through the winter. Cocoons hatch in early spring and adults mature in summer. These worms are able to survive a variety of conditions including cold winter temperatures.

Preventing the introduction and spread of jumping worms in Minnesota is more effective than controlling established populations. Do not purchase or import jumping worms, and remember to inspect mulch, plants, soil and bait for jumping worms.

There are no known methods for controlling invasive earthworms on a large scale in natural settings. Chemical treatments that would kill earthworms would kill beneficial soil organisms as well. Jumping worms live near the top of the soil surface and in the leaf and mulch layer. You can hand collect worms, seal them in a bag, and dispose of them in the trash. This may help reduce the amount of jumping worms at your site.

SERVICE RECOGNITION

The Elk River Lions recognize two Lions for their tremendous dedication and hard work for over 50 years each!

Lion Ralph Hieb joined the Medina, North Dakota Lions Club over 52 years ago, transferring to the Willmar Lions Club in 1991, who Lion Ralph said was "a great Lions Club with some very nice people." He then transferred to the Elk River Lions Club in 2011, where he has been very active and always a positive influence in committees, and attending virtually all regular meetings and Club events. Thank you Lion Ralph!

Elk River Lions Club charter member Lion Don McRae is still a member 51 years later. Lion Don was the club's 2nd president and has held many offices and has done a lot of hard work with the club for decades. He was always there to help set up the Club's gigantic 5-piece tent for events and for decades he collected all the donated eyeglasses from local drop-boxes, until recently handing that duty off to Lion Ralph Hieb.

Lion Don loved his wife of 68 years, Linnea, who passed away July 3rd. Please keep this amazing volunteer in your thoughts and prayers, and if you attend Linnea's memorial service on August 6th, think about wearing something that says you are a Lion.

And if you see Lion Don or Lion Ralph please let them know how much you appreciate their 5+ decades of dedicated service to the community and the world! God bless you all and be kind to each other.

The Elk River Lions Club participated in the Sherburne County Fair and Parade in July 2022, with help from many local citizens, including the Civil Air Patrol, Elk River's Cub Scout Pack 111, Super T Lawn Service, Quilt Pink, Big Lake Youth Ambassador Ruby, and several members of the Berthiaume family.
