Shelter in Lions Park becomes reality

The Lions Clubs in Grand Forks are on their way to building a new picnic shelter in Lions Park.

The long awaited shelter did need to be approved by the park district; however, the three Lions Clubs in Grand Forks, Grand Forks Lions, Red River Lions and South Forks Lions, have had this shelter on their wish list for quite some time.

The Grand Forks Park District did see a need and approached the three clubs regarding the project.

On May 7, Grand Forks Lions President Connie Osowski and Red River Lions President Grant Kahlbaugh, with other members of their respective Lions Clubs, presented their clubs' third of the cost of the shelter to Grand Forks Park District Commission President Jay Panzer.

Lions Park in Grand Forks is located east of Century Elementary School on 17th Avenue South.

Melvin Jones was quite a fellow

(Part 2)

In my article last month I talked about our founder Melvin Jones' early years up until about the time he set the machinery in motion to start a new service organization. This month, I will pick up from there and discuss the birth and growth of Lions Clubs International.

In the early part of 1917, MJ decided it was time to take action. He sent invitations to a large number of clubs and organizations around the United States inviting them to an organizational meeting to be held on June 17 at the Hotel LaSalle in Chicago. Thirty-six representatives from 22 organizations from around the country attended. The meeting went smoothly until the question of the name for the new organization came up.

Organizations represented at the meeting were the Optimists, Reciprocity clubs, the Wheels, the Concordia Club of Omaha, the Business and Professional Men of St. Paul, the Cirgonians of Los Angeles, the Vortex group from St. Louis and Detroit and the Lions Club of Indiana, none of whom were inclined to give up their name without a struggle. The Lions Club of Indiana, a fraternal organization, had the word "Lions" in their name simply by coincidence. Their president, however, was Dr. W. P. Woods who would later become the first president of the new "Association of Lions Clubs."

MJ anticipated the "naming" problem and had done considerable cloakroom campaigning prior to the meeting to develop support for his favorite name, the "Association of Lions Clubs." When the secret ballot vote for the name was taken, MJ's choice was the winner, an action that prompted the Optimists to storm out of the room.

So, Lions Clubs International was born at that June 17 meeting in Chicago. The fine points of the new organization were done during the first national convention held in Dallas in October of 1917, and the second convention held in St. Louis in August of 1918. One thing stands out clearly during these early developmental years and that is that MJ was the guiding light and the unquestioned founder of The International Association of Lions Clubs.

MJ kept his insurance agency in Chicago until 1926, a time when it became apparent that the new Lions organization required all of his time. With his wife Rosie and a few volunteers, MJ continued to refine the organization for the rest of his life.

MJ received numerous honors over the years, one of which was in 1950 when LCI surpassed the 400,000 member mark. In 1953, he oversaw the dedication of the new headquarters building on Michigan Avenue in Chicago which was soon outgrown. It was at this time that the headquarters operation was moved to its present location in Oak Brook. Probably his biggest honor came in 1958 when the Association conferred on him the title of Founder and Secretary-General.

Tragedy came to MJ in 1954 when his wife of 45 years, Rose Amanda, passed away. It was an event that he had a great deal of difficulty with until about two years later when he met a neighbor by the name of Lillian Radigan. They were married in a simple ceremony on June 21, 1956.

MJ refused to accept the infirmities of old age and continued to work tirelessly, even during the 1960 International Convention where he was accorded royal and reverent treatment. His sturdy frame and brilliant mind, however, became tired following that convention and Melvin Jones passed away on June 1, 1961, at the age of 82 years.

Dahle 2013 LePage recipient

By CANDY LIEN

During the 2013 NDAB State Convention in Grand Forks, May 31-June 2, Mr. Jim Dahle of Bottineau was presented with the Robert John LePage Service Award. This award is given every year to a North Dakota Lion who has been judged to embody the spirit of Bob LePage.

Bob worked tirelessly behind the scenes for many years, never accepting any compensation, to serve the unmet needs of people with vision loss, particularly in the Fargo area. During the 2008 NDAB state convention, Bob had been presented with a plaque in gratitude for his many years of service to the visually impaired.

When he died suddenly in September of that year, the North Dakota Association of the Blind decided to Honor his memory by continuing the tradition of granting an award in his name to the North Dakota Lion who best exemplified Bob's quiet, humble type of service.

Though he is a resident of Bottineau, Mr. Dahle has been a member of the Lake Metigoshe Lions for many years, joining after the Bottineau chapter folded. Some of the activities that Mr. Dahle has been involved in include the monthly collection of eyes glasses;

Traveling to Minot with corneas (160-mile round trip) and never accepting compensation for mileage; and coordination of activities with the local Good Samaritan Center, including picnics and cook outs for the residents.

"Whenever our club needs anything done, Jim will be one of the first members to volunteer," says Les Halvorson, club President.

Committee member Shereen Faber presented the plaque to Mr. Dahle during the evening banquet at the Guest House in Grand Forks. The plaque reads: "With thanks and appreciation for your 'vision' and dedication to people with sight loss in North Dakota."

Congratulations to Mr. Jim Dahle on receiving this well-deserved award!

Free eye exams offered 'year round' for low income workers, families

Free eye exams and eyeglasses if necessary, will be offered to uninsured workers and their families that are residents of North Dakota, through the Vision USA-ND Project.

As part of the national program called Vision USA, participating optometrists are donating their services to provide comprehensive eye exams to children and adults. In addition, local Lions Clubs and Vision Services Inc. and optical laboratories are providing funds and/or discounts to cover the cost of lenses.

To qualify, applicants must meet all of the following guidelines:
Must be a North Dakota resident and have lived in the state of ND for at least 2 years.

The applicant, their legally wed spouse or the parent of a minor child that is applying, must be working at least part-time.

The applicant cannot have any type of eye health coverage that will assist them in any way with either an eye exam or eyeglasses. This includes Medicaid, Medicare and IHS.

The applicant's last eye exam has been 3 or more years ago

The applicant must meet Household Income Guidelines for the Vision USA Program.

"Many low income working people without insurance and do not qualify for government assistance simply cannot afford eye exams," according to Steve Kourajian, OD, Vision USA-ND Project Coordinator. "Without preventative eyecare, small vision problems could escalate to more costly and potentially serious conditions later in life." said Dr. Kourajian

Since the program's inception, over 2,500 North Dakotans have received assistance and approximately nine out of ten applicants have had one or more eye health or vision problems addressed through the program.

All applications will be reviewed. Eligible persons will be notified and referred to a participating optometrist.

Applications may be obtained from county social services, school administrators, local Lions Club members, or by contacting the Vision USA -ND Project at 701-258-6766. Applications may also be downloaded from www.ndeyecare.com.

5NE DISTRICT GOVERNOR'S REPORT

KATHERINE TWEED

This year's Presidential Theme, "Follow Your Dream," is an especially fitting one for me. My mother told me I was dreaming before I was talking. Mothers know these things.

The dream I hold close now for all of us in District 5NE is a dream we share.

"We all have hopes and dreams. We all go through times in our lives when we come up with ideas of things that we would like to accomplish in the years ahead.

It's a natural human tendency to come up with an ideal that we would like to fulfill in our future," Lions President Barry J. Palmer from Australia said.

Lions President
Barry J. Palmer

Dreams for this Lions year are abundant. Here are a few. Please add yours to the list.

Every Lion from Argusville-Gardner-Grandin Valley to Zeeland Dakota will roar about something. Whether it is providing eyeglasses for someone, a Vision Magnifier, a scholarship to Lions Youth Exchange camp, or building a ramp at someone's home or bowling with the blind. Lions do so many things to build each other up and to make better communities. Lions make the world a better place. We are going to do some serious work to put aside our natural modesty – we will build a brag book.

We have an up-to-date District website. It is especially important to keep each other informed about what is happening. Let us know when you are having events so it can be shared. We want to make sure we all know how vital our events are and can attend.

Grow our members to grow our clubs. The Cabinet is available to you – a group of dedicated, informed and helpful Lions ready to serve you. Each club president receives a book with everyone listed. Contact us. The Multiple District 5 website will also have the Cabinet listed. Look it up and contact us.

Let us visit each other more. It only takes three to have an official visitation. You can share what your club is doing and you can find out more about neighboring clubs.

Dream about what you as a Lion, about what your own club, about our District and state, about what Lions can do together. The Lions Clubs International Foundation has directed thousands of dollars to assist with disasters in our District. We can help ourselves and help around the world with our gifts.

Dream about what our own Lions Eye Bank of North Dakota and Lions Foundations of North Dakota can do with your support, individually and on a club level.

As this column is written, I am in the throes of packing for the LCI convention in Hamburg, Germany. My daughter, Kara, will accompany me. My husband will stay home to take care of our golden retriever, Ava, cat, Gus, and our daughter's three cats. We will all have stories to tell.

Tell our stories we must. Watch for letters and postcards. They will be coming to you. Please send your stories to me, too.

Dreams become the reality to inspire us all. Together, we serve. Follow your Dream.

MD5 Convention in Yorkton

By PDG MURIEL POPP
(Tisdale, Saskatchewan)
(Event was June 6-8)

The main concern of the convention committee this year was to have a convention that was different from any others Lions have ever attended.

I want to tell you some of the ways in which they succeeded – it was ... different:

Representing Bjorkdale Lions Club were only two Lions. I am very disappointed that it wasn't more like 10 or 12 Lions. But some clubs were not represented at all. You will never be able to go to another convention quite like that one.

1. High Ranking speakers who really were interesting and right on the mark.

a) Dr. Lion Pattie Hill from Edmonton is one of the best speakers I have ever heard. Excellent – truly. In private life she is not only a psychologist, but also a very intelligent lady. I predict that within ten years, she will be the first woman president of Lions International. She is of that caliber, for sure.

Her speech alone was well worth the cost of the convention fee.

b) Justin Flunder is a great motivational speaker. He is under 35 years of age and capably explained to us in an understandable way why it is hard to interest young people in joining Lions. He told us what young people expect of a club and how we can successfully change our ways to get them to join and stay Lions. He was enthusiastic, intelligent, and exciting to listen to. He illustrated all his points with charts and graphic videos – excellent, excellent.

2. One of the main features of the Convention was a young hypnotist who kept the crowd of Lions in stitches. Sometimes it was difficult to hear what the hypnotist was saying for the crowd laughing. Even I, who usually don't like hypnotism, had a hearty laugh when he convinced a young man that he wasn't a boy at all, but a sexy young girl. He was so convinced that he was a girl that he/she immediately got up to dance cheek to cheek with another young man in the crowd. What great fun!

3. In all my years of living, and attending conventions, I had never been to a pirate party. In fact, I didn't know much about pirates. I looked on the computer to see how a pirate dressed and found out that there actually were women pirates and how they should dress. I had a great time going to thrift shops, getting my costume together, and getting dolled up to go to the party itself. Everybody there was in costume of some kind. It was the most fun I've had in years.

4. Every meal was scrumptious, even the

Thursday night dinner at the Pirate Party. But the committee still succeeded in giving the food a different twist. For Saturday lunch, we enjoyed a Ukrainian treat to honour the many Ukrainians living in the Yorkton area. On each table was a massive bowl of delightfully red Yorkton borsht to enjoy along with thick slices of bread.

5. If you missed this convention, it is doubtful if you will ever see another one quite like it. It was absolutely excellent – different and fun, fun, fun.

Since everything was so out of the ordinary, the Lions in attendance were relaxed and in a party mood which lasted over the three full days. I met (and hugged) many fellow Lions that I had not seen for over ten years.

6. I am sure that Watertown will make a big effort next year to duplicate the Yorkton Convention. It will be worthwhile going to see how they try to better what happened this year. Bert & Ernie (two Lions from Watertown, SD) made a presentation inviting everyone to the 2013-14 convention in Watertown. After their presentation, one of the convention speakers made the remark, "Watertown will have to raise the bar to compete with Yorkton!" Their response was, "Oh, for sure! We will make certain the liquor bar is on the second floor."

7. See you all at their bar.

Carrington Lions Golf Tournament

The 7th Annual Carrington Lions/Gate City Bank Scramble Golf Tournament was Friday, June 21. This tournament has been renamed the Al Larson Memorial Golf Tournament in honor of charter Lions member Al who passed away in May of 2010.

The tournament was again very successful, we even had very nice weather this year. The tournament has gained much notoriety for having bad weather.

The tournament attracted 18 teams this year. There were Lions members from Fargo, Bismarck, Larimore, Harvey, Gackle, Streeter, Grand Forks, Edgeley, Robinson and Carrington. The Carrington Lions want to thank all Lions members who came to the tournament this year and in years past.

The golfers and teams were playing for cash team prizes and individual hole prizes. There was a contest on each hole and hole-in-one contest on the Par 3 holes. (On Hole 5, the golfers had a chance to win a car, courtesy Bessette Motors of Carrington.) No one got a hole-in-one on any of the holes.

A total of $850 in cash was awarded to the teams for place winnings. A live auction was held in addition to the golf tournament. Items auctioned off included casino packages, golf packages, sports tickets, golf equipment and sports memorabilia.

The monies generated from this golf tournament will be used in some of the many service projects that the Carrington Lions Club is involved with. They include LCIF, the Vision Magnifier Program, Service Dogs, Leader Dogs, N.D. EyeBank and many local projects. Again, the Carrington Lions thank all of you for your support.

The Al Larson Memorial Golf Tournament for 2014 will be during the first part of June. Watch for the registration form in the N.D. Lion.

THANK YOU
