Each of the dogs appearing in the calendar reside in northeastern Pennsylvania with their owners. They were chosen through a contest run through the social networking site Facebook.

One hundred percent of the net proceeds from the sale of the calendars will be donated to Leader Dogs for the Blind, a nonprofit organization that provides guide dogs to the blind and visually impaired.

A special thank you goes out to the Wilkes-Barre Blind Association and the following chapters of Lions Club International, which made monetary donations that helped make this project possible: Hanover Township; Plains Township; Duryea; Twin Borough, Twin County and Wilkes-Barre.

A thank you also goes out to the following people who helped with the creation and implementation of this project: The judges who selected the winners from among the entrants – John Jendrzejewski and Teri Weidner of Tails R Wag'n grooming salon; Rich Bobb of the Pet Salon grooming salon and Aimee Dilger, photographer for The Times Leader newspaper; Lindsey Jones of The Times Leader, who created promotional flyers for the calendar and Rob Demko and Amy Wall of Times Printing of Swoyersville for creating and printing the calendar.

The Paws for a Cause Calendar is the senior project of Hanover Area High School 2012 senior Alison Morgan Besecker, the daughter of Harry and Theresa Besecker of Hanover Township.
