The most beautiful thought in the Lions Code of Ethics is in the fourth clause...“to hold friendship as an end not a means.” This thought, if put into action, makes a man a leader, a big man. For it makes him big enough, in questions of ethics, to resolve all his doubts against himself.

District 13 OH7 Poinsettia Sale

The profits from District 13 OH7 Poinsettia Sale help cover some of the expenses of our annual District Convention to keep it affordable for all. Details on the cost, size and variety of flowers available will be announced in early fall.

District 13 OH7 can only sell these items to Lion members and clubs. These are a great way to show how much you care and to those you may have lost touch with over the year. Some clubs buy them to say “Thank You” to churches and other facilities that host their meetings. No orders will be taken after the announced deadline, so make sure you get your orders in early!

The raffle of the Vest of Pins will take place on Sunday, March 5, 2018 at the close of the District 13 OH7 Convention. Vest was donated by Lions Janice & Larry Arnold.

Helen Keller's Speech at International Convention

Cedar Point, Ohio, USA

June 30, 1925

Dear Lions and Ladies:

I suppose you have heard the legend that represents opportunity as a capricious lady, who knocks at every door but once, and if the door isn't opened quickly, she passes on, never to return. And that is as it should be. Lovely, desirable ladies won't wait. You have to go out and grab 'em.

I am your opportunity. I am knocking at your door. I want to be adopted. The legend doesn't say what you are to do when several beautiful opportunities present themselves at the same door. I guess you have to choose the one you love best. I hope you will adopt me. I am the youngest here, and what I offer you is full of splendid opportunities for service.

The American Foundation for the Blind is only four years old. It grew out of the imperative needs of the blind, and was called into existence by the sightless themselves. It is national and international in scope and in importance. It represents the best and most enlightened thought on our subject that has been reached so far. Its object is to make the lives of the blind more worthwhile everywhere by increasing their economic value and giving them the joy of normal activity.

Try to imagine how you would feel if you were suddenly stricken blind today. Picture yourself stumbling and groping at noonday as in the night; your work, your independence, gone. In that dark world wouldn't you be glad if a friend took you by the hand and said, "Come with me and I will teach you how to do some of the things you used to do when you could see?" That is just the kind of friend the American Foundation is going to be to all the blind in this country if seeing people will give it the support it must have.

You have heard how through a little word dropped from the fingers of another, a ray of light from another soul touched the darkness of my mind and I found myself, found the world, found God. It is because my teacher learned about me and broke through the dark, silent imprisonment which held me that I am able to work for myself and for others. It is the caring we want more than money. The gift without the sympathy and interest of the giver is empty. If you care, if we can make the people of this great country care, the blind will indeed triumph over blindness.

The opportunity I bring to you, Lions, is this: To foster and sponsor the work of the American Foundation for the Blind. Will you not help me hasten the day when there shall be no preventable blindness; no little deaf, blind child untaught; no blind man or woman unaided? I appeal to you Lions, you who have your sight, your hearing, you who are strong and brave and kind. Will you not constitute yourselves Knights of the Blind in this crusade against darkness?

I thank you.

The Lion Emblem

I am looking at the Emblem
Of the clubs we know so well.

The gold and purple symbol
With the central letter (L).

I note the Lions faces
To the left and to the right.

And I wonder at the reason
F or this double feature sight.

Now I think I understand,
Or so it seems to me
Altho' it's not official,
Here's the way it seems to be.

One face is looking backward
To our great inspiring past
And learning by experience
From the memories that last
The other face is looking
To the years that lie before
With the confident assurance
That the best is yet in store.

And we the Lion members
Should wear our badge with pride
F or it marks us all as partners
In this ever growing tide.

Lions' Code of Ethics

- TO SHOW my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.
- TO SEEK success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.
- TO REMEMBER that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.
- WHENEVER a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards others, to resolve such doubts against myself.
- TO HOLD friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.
- ALWAYS to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state, and my community, as to give them my unswerving loyalty in word, act, and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor, and means.
- TO AID others by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.
- TO BE CAREFUL with my criticism and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy.

Charity begins at home but should not end there.

Excerpts from Inaugural Address of International President
James T. Coffey

A Better World for Everyone: Assume the Responsibility!

This, however, brings up another point, the significance of which I cannot over-emphasize. Lions Clubs International has a proud tradition that has witnessed decades of selfless commitment to the ideal of voluntary service. It's a tradition that has, for 75 years, strengthened communities and resulted in healthier, more productive and better lives for millions of people around the world. But let us be able to recognize the difference between tradition and habit. Every club must be certain that its method of operation does, in fact, reflect our traditional values and attract prospective Lions who want to become members. The most obvious example in emphasizing our standing as a service club is to invite women to become members. Although the number of female Lions now number well in excess of 68,000, many clubs still have no women members. Women in every community possess the individual skills and enthusiasm to make the local Lions clubs still more effective in meeting their service obligations. They're doing it now! By the thousands! Lions clubs with women on their rolls demonstrate quite clearly that it's more important to be successful than exclusive. We must not be exclusive! Lions, I ask that you make every effort to ensure that your meeting schedules, dress codes, the manner in which meetings are conducted and skill in publicizing your club's accomplishments result in a positive image, one that will easily attract new members. Growth in membership and enhancing our image-both are crucial and they are the responsibility of every member in this association. This year marks the tenth anniversary of the Lions drug awareness program. It is a responsibility to our young people I would hope Lions never relinquish. As community leaders, we must study the most effective ways we can help young people meet the many challenges to their own growth and futures. Toward this end, the Lions-Quest initiatives have drawn the praise of parents, teachers and school administrators for enabling young people to gain the confidence and self-esteem necessary to avoid surrendering to substance abuse. Combined, Skills for Adolescence and Skills for Growing are now taught in 33,000 schools in 27 nations and, over the years, hundreds of thousands of youngsters and their families have benefitted. Excellent totals. Lions are participating in other drug prevention programs as well, each individual effort proof of our enduring dedication in helping our young people to grow and mature in a drug-free environment. Lions clubs not yet involved in some mode of drug prevention in their communities might well celebrate the association's tenth anniversary of fighting drug abuse by embarking on a program. Upon seeing the results, you'll be glad you did. On Wednesday, the flag ceremony at this convention emphasized once again that, given the will and determination, people of varying cultures and languages and ethnic backgrounds can live in peace and harmony. In fact, every international convention is a case study in how citizens of the world can, once the opportunity presents itself, extend hands of friendship and understanding among one another. It's a triumph of global goodwill that has been a continuing success story for years. Yes, we do recognize our responsibilities to SightFirst, Campaign SightFirst and to so many other activities that heal and help. But in conjunction with our service programs, Lions Clubs International has established a marvelous record of promoting and achieving harmony and cooperation among people of nationalities spanning the globe. Lions Day with the United Nations, for example, is drawing hundreds and hundreds of Lions together, not only at U.N. headquarters in New York City, but in cities around the world, to discuss how best to join our forces in promoting lasting international peace. Hundreds of thousands of young people have participated in our peace poster contest over the past five years and the growth of our youth exchange and youth camp programs is still further evidence of the seriousness in which Lions view their responsibilities in bringing the people of the world together. And I am positive we can all appreciate the early accomplishments of SightFirst and untiring efforts of Campaign SightFirst in emphasizing the global humanitarian objectives of this association. Lions, each of our endeavors, each of the programs upon which we embark in our own communities or with Lions in other lands demonstrates in some manner our willingness to assume the responsibilities for bringing about good will and enduring peace. True, it is an imposing responsibility, but, as leaders in the voluntary sphere, it is one we simply must recognize as our solemn duty to embrace. Oh, yes, there are those who would insist that the condition of the world today is so shocking that it is beyond help and beyond hope. What can any of us do in the face of the headlines and news reports that greet us every day? Yes, I agree the challenge to bring about a better world is imposing. But Lions Clubs International has a long and magnificent record of accepting challenges to build, to improve, to elevate. We have been accorded the, privilege of being Lions, of having known success in our private lives and of living in lands where we may exercise our rights of freedom of expression and of assembly. And we have the priceless love of our families. My fellow Lions, we have so very much, so very much for which to be thankful. It has often been observed, "To whom much is given, much is expected." As leaders, as Lions, we understand what is expected of us. We realize fully the magnitude of our responsibilities to make this a healthier, happier, more peaceful world. Lions, it is indeed, an idealistic goal, one that may be expressed in many ways...in words, in action...and in song. Yes, it is truly our responsibility to reach out and touch someone's hand to make this a better world.

The Lions' Creed

- I BELIEVE: That hard work and honest sweat are the building blocks of a person's character.
- I BELIEVE: Through example my children are learning values that will last a lifetime.
- I BELIEVE: That the best things in life are free, the sunrise, the autumn color, the beauty of spring.
- I BELIEVE: That happiness comes from the joy of doing things for others, with no thought of personal gain.
- I BELIEVE: That by my toil I am giving more to the world than I am taking from it and the world is just a little better for my having passed through it.
- I BELIEVE: That my life will be measured by what I have done for my fellow man and by this standard I fear no judgment.
- I BELIEVE: That when a man grows old and sums up his days, he should be able to stand tall and feel pride in the life he has lived.
- I BELIEVE: A man plants a tree knowing that he will not live long enough to enjoy it but others will be able to enjoy its shade and beauty.
- I BELIEVE: That with the help of about one and one half million Lions I can do my part to make this a better world for future generations.

Lions Invocation

Lord, as we gather here, we pause to offer up this prayer. Bless now this food that we partake and every effort that we make to build the communities in which we live and put it in our hearts to give to worthy causes.

Bless the blind and all we do to serve mankind. Be with us till we meet again and bless our hands and homes.

Amen

The Lions Pledge

I pledge my allegiance to my country and to the cause of peace throughout the world. I believe in the principals of Lionism as contained in the Lions Code of Ethics. I am proud to be a Lion dedicated to the service of others.

Lions Prayer

Where Lions meet, be present Lord; to weld our heart of one accord. To do thy will Lord make us strong; to aid the weak and right the wrong.

Lord, hear these Lions when they pray. We thank you for bringing us safely through another day. As we gather to give our reports and to dine, may we all remember the pledge we took when becoming a Lion; to attend all meetings and work together, helping others to some degree to live better. As we also work to help those who live in strife, we thank you dear God for granting us such a wonderful life. Lord, hear this our prayer, and may we continue to live and work in your care.

Amen
