

Amateur Radio Exam Sites Online

If you have been a “ham” before and let your license expire, today’s regulations eliminate the CW portion. All you have to do is pass the tech exam ( 23 out of 36 questions) and you can get your tech or General license back. You can also apply for a vanity call and get your old call letters back! It is that simple! Please remember with cyber hacks happening more and more frequently, if the Internet gets shut down the only communication in this country will be “ham” radio.

These are the exact same questions and answer choices you will see on the real exam.

The following question pools are currently online:

Question pool	Effective dates	Question pool size	Questions on the test	Minimum right to pass	Maximum wrong to pass
