

Greeter Committee

The Greeter Committee welcomes newcomers and their families to the community and acquaints them with the commercial, civic, religious, educational and recreational life of the community. By inviting their participation in community activities, the Greeter Committee helps the newcomer family to enrich their own community life. This in turn also enriches the community. The committee can also introduce newcomers to club members.

Duties

The Greeter Committee also:

- Obtains names and addresses of all newcomers through information acquired from club members.
- Publishes a community information pamphlet which includes locations and leader's names of schools, religious institutions, youth organizations and public institutions such as public library, municipal auditorium, recreation center, parks, playground areas, golf courses, swimming pools, picnic grounds, museums, post office, transportation stations, police and fire station, airport and civilian defense center. The pamphlet should also contain a map. The Lions emblem and a statement. "Presented by the _____ Lions Club. Regular meeting scheduled for (day, time, location)." These pamphlets may be distributed in person or by mail.
- Obtains information about the newcomers occupation or profession, where the spouses are employed, number of family members, and children of school age, and any religious club or affiliation.
- Invites newcomers to attend the next club meeting as an escorted guest, if advisable, and sees that the newcomer is introduced to club officers.
- Conducts a "newcomer's reception" periodically throughout the year during which newcomers are invited to a club family party.
