This team is looking forward to making an impact within the following year. They have started their year with a strategic workshop at Cresta Lodge.

During this meeting they outlined their master plan and strategies towards leading the district into a successful Leoistic year.

What inspires us as Fisco Leos

By Chris Tafi Mushunje

In a bid to promote smartness in the school, to stop AIDS from spreading, to donate cash and kind to the needy, to create opportunities and experiences to leadership or in a nut shell, TO SERVE, a Leo club was formed at St Faith's High many years ago and because of these reasons until today the club still goes on and the spirit of leoism still moves from one leoistic year to the other.

Our club has members from different backgrounds. This inspires us to continue serving since it makes work easier, for instance, some of the members in our club came from less privileged families so they tell us the kind of help that less privileged families need and how to offer the help they need. Also the desire to serve drives us forward as Fisco Leos. No is paid to be a leo, ironically, it is us who pay the subscriptions and district dues without being forced or punished which obviously shows that the desire to serve brings us together and is a common factor amongst Fisco Leos. This reminds me of something else, unity. The fact that we are all Leos brings unity amongst. As we face criticism and discouragement from the surrounding people we keep on encouraging each other. Like the Leo anthem says "United in service, "nothing or no one will separate us when it comes to offering a helping hand to the community.

As you look out through the window every morning seeing papers lying around or as you walk in the streets every weekend seeing beggars on the corners, have you ever wondered who will take those papers to the bin or who will at least feed the beggar if you don't? As Fisco Leos we take that as a duty. It inspires us to do what the world can't do. It is difficult for any man out there to help someone expecting nothing in return that is why we are there as leos. Just like Econet, we are inspired to change your world but through serving.

I believe we are all leaders, everyone is a leader but not everyone has the leadership skills. You might be a class rep, a monitor, a prefect or even a first born child in your family. All that makes us leaders but Leo comes in now. It offers experience and opportunities to gain the leadership skills, for example, Anesu Rangwani, the former Junior President of Zimbabwe, a student from this school was the first teenager ever to address at a District 412 Lions Council meeting in celebration of their Golden Jubilee. He received a standing ovation from most of the Lions present. After something like this happens, we are all inspired to stick to Leo so as to reach greater heights as Fisco Leos.

Of course there are other things that inspire us like the virtue of being a leo and a prospective lion. All this makes us what we are today. As Fisco leos we will keep on keeping on, we will work as team not as a group and always to build and not to destroy.

DISTRICT 4.1.2 ON THE INTERNATIONAL PLATFORM

Go International Leos!!

Leo Takudzwa who is currently seating on the International Leo Advisory board representing Africa, represented Leos from district 4.1.2 at a convention in Germany. After observing what other Leos all over the world are doing for their communities he prepared a list of recommendations for Clubs within District 4.1.2;

1. The District Secretary must constantly be in touch with Leo International program managers.
 - Youth Programs Coordinator, Lion Emily Burnett; emily.burnett@lionsclub.org
 - Youth Programs Manager, Lion Jessica Hoey; jessica.hoey@lionsclub.org
2. It is important that beginning of each Leostic year we furnish these two with details about the new executive board, President, 2 vices, Treasurer and Secretary i.e. Leo 91 form. N.B (I have attached a copy to this presentation)
3. We must report all activities and projects; All our projects as a District and down to club level must be guided by the Lions-Leo fiscal year calendar which high-lights monthly projects.
 - N.B Secretary to push & demand reports from Region Chairs
 - The issue is not to undertake all monthly projects but rather focus on major projects of which this fiscal year we have a Drive against hunger, Read & write Projects (Literacy awareness) and eye sight campaigns. These are the most leading of all. N.B (I have attached a copy of the calendar to this presentation)
4. We must in this fiscal year chatter more Alpha and Omega Leo clubs
 - This is critical when we then want to attend International Conventions, youth camps and exchange programs.
 - The fee still remains US$100 to chatter 20 Leos
 - N.B Leo 72 form attached here is for chattered clubs, let's keep our eyes on them in terms of their performance
6. We also must keep count of our membership, beginning of the year and at the end of the year. The membership chair (1st V.P) work hand and glove with region chairs to keep track of District membership as there is a membership award for the District which inducts the most number of Leos.

Other Activities in the District

Manicaland Induction

The induction for Schools within Manicaland was attended by Leos from St Faith's, Marist Nyanga, Kriste Mambo and the host St David's Bonda. The occasion was graced by Lions Region 2 Chair Lion Moses Mukoyi and his wife President of Rusape Lions Club Lion Docus. The event was sealed of with a braai .

Roosevelt Induction

Lion Jona Machaya graced the induction of energetic Roosevelt Leos. He was accompanied by Leo District Board members including the current Leo District president Leo Pritchard.

St Dominics Braai

St Dominics Leo Club held a fundraising Braai which was attended by fellow Board Members. It looks like Leos were having a lot of fun as they raised money for various charity projects.

District President's Shield and Braai

The Phoenix Omega Leos in collaboration with St Johns High Leos hosted the first District President's basketball Tournament which was a success. St John's High won the shield after battling it out with Harare The Phoenix Omega. All games were free and Fare!!

.....Waiting for the games to begin

.....Down and out

Leo Tonde (D.J Vibez)

Name : tonderai allen mandevani

Currently in my final year at midlands state university and I am studying media and society studies..although I am studying media I do not hope to end up as a journalist I hope to take the advertising and or public relations route I am quite a confident lad who gives an extra kick in everything I do even if its mischief..lol..I have great passion in helping those that are not privileged as I am, this was the main reason I joined Leos.. I am often asked what my ambitions are..but I don't have a clear answer to that simply because am driven by success so to me to be successful u shouldn't centre on one ambition so i try almost anything to achieve my ultimate goal And finally I am not married and don't have kids though I am in a relationship

Inspire others to do more!
From the District President

Firstly, we thank the editorial and P.R Team for making this newsletter a success. We still depend on our inspirational talk to better our service standards. I am overwhelmed by the amount of impact we are having in our community. Of important to note are the number of children whom Leos have adopted. Currently we have over 20 children whose educational welfare is being catered by Leos in the District alone, which is very inspirational. Imagine what effect this has in the near future. We have literally enlightened a generation with this mere activity.

To streamline our key goals for the year, we will focus on the following:

- A target of chartering 7 clubs this coming year, will keep a tracker every month to see where we would be!

- Leadership development with experienced faculty trainers, we will engage those who have made it to help us realise our full potential through inspired training,
- We will help feed at least 1,000 children this year through Spotlight on children related projects,
- To increase the number of children whom we are paying fees to 40 district-wide;
- To engage more partners in our quest to positively impact our community
- We will facilitate the full membership of several other university campus based Leo Clubs locally.

Remember never to take any service activity for granted as it has a domino effect. No small act of change is minute to go unnoticed. Do your best and someone will notice. Do not forget the world is but a stage, where if not everyone, someone at least is watching you. Let's keep up with the positive involvement. I will quote this to guide us this year;

"If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader"- John Quincy Adams

We have been doing a lot, but surely we can and will do a lot more. We will surely serve this year and inspire others to do more and become more!
