VOLUME 2 ISSUE VIII

DISTRICT GOVERNOR'S COLUMN

How are you doing on your personal New Year's Resolutions? How are you doing on the Lions New Year's Resolutions? Here's a recap.

Have you:

- Brought in a new member?
- Made a club donation to LCIF?
- Made a personal donation to LCIF?
- Participated in club activities?
- Made sure your secretary is filing reports on time?
- Made your reservation for District and State Convention?

Please try to accomplish each of those goals by June 30.

Our current district membership count is 1226 which is down 27 from the beginning of the year. We had a big drop in December because of clubs purging their roles. But that is OK. We can still have a positive growth if each Lion does his part and bring in a new member.

The District Governors are having a membership challenge in April. Each Governor and Vice-Governor have put money in a pot and the district that brings in the most new members in April will receive the pot. I have decided that if we win the money, which will be over $1000, we will reimburse the new member the registration fee of $35. If the club pays that fee, we will reimburse the club. But remember, we need to win the membership challenge to get the money. So if you get a new member before April, let them participate in all activities, just don't send the application in until after April 1.

The Mid-Winter Conference was an outstanding event this year. If you missed it, you really missed out. As a service project, attendees were asked to bring new items such as mittens, hats, socks, etc. There were over 2000 items brought to the conference. These were then split between the seven district governors. Pam and I delivered two garbage bags full of items to the Charis House in Ft. Wayne. They were greatly appreciated.

You will find a registration form for the District Convention on March 16 in this newsletter. Cost for the day is $29 per person. This includes a continental breakfast and a great lunch. See the menus on the registration form. Please try and have several members of your club attend. The goal is to get 120 people there. Our guest for the day is PIP Joe Preston. There will be several prizes awarded that day. First time District Convention attendees will have a chance to have their registration fee reimbursed and the club president with the most club members attending will also get a prize. There will also be several door prizes given out and a 50/50 drawing.

You should also be getting your registration in for the State Convention. Go to www.indianalionsconvention.org for more information and registration form.

FROM THE DESK OF 1ST VDG TERRY MARKER

It's Saturday morning as I set at my desk to write this newsletter article, the snow is coming down and the weather forecasters are telling everyone to stay inside. It is the type of morning that I am glad I can stay in. The weather last week-end was not quite as bad but it did affect the turn out at the Mid-winter Conference. For those who were able to make it I'm glad because I feel that this is one of the best conferences that I have been to and the seminars and food were great..

As Lions we need to take advantage of these opportunities because it helps us become better leaders in our club, our community and our state. I believe that is one of our goals -- to become better leaders. We need members who become our leaders. And leaders who become servant leader to our communities, our districts and our state, and then the world.

We may feel like we are too small to make a difference and that makes me think about a story I heard. "A small boy was walking down a beach picking up star fish and throwing them back into the ocean one by one. A man approached him and told him he was wasting his time, there were to many of them. The boy looked up at the man and down at the star fish he held and said, "I may not be able to help them all but to this one I am making a difference." Author Unknown.

DG Alan reiterated his goals last month and we need to be asking ourselves how is our club doing. Are we on track to accomplish these goals?

As I think about my goals for next year they are most likely to be very similar. I am going to be like the District Superintendent that I have over me. He has basically preached the same sermon to our district for the last 3-4 years and says he will keep preaching it until we do it. Well this is what we need to do. We need to replace the members we lose and grow by at least one member for every twenty members that we have. We need to step up and take on leadership roles in not only our clubs but in our district and in our State.

And we need to look for new ways to serve our communities and our world.

I want to suggest two ways you can help in serving.

One way to serve is to ask what preparation have you made to serve in the event of a disaster in your area. What assets do you have in personnel and material. The idea is to plan ahead. It is sort of like the old Boy Scout motto of being prepared. You can be prepared by contacting your county Emergency Management manager and ask how can you as a club assist them?

The second way is to support Campaign 100. By supporting Campaign 100 you are supporting:

- Vision
- Youth
- Disaster Relief
- Humanitarian Causes
- Diabetes
- Hunger
- Childhood Cancer
- Environment

The goal is to raise 300 million dollars over the next 3 years so that Lions can reach out to 200 million people per year.

You may not be able to give a $1000.00 but can you give a dollar a week over the next 3 years. That's a pledge of over $150.00. How about $5.00 dollars a week or twenty dollars a month. That would be over $750.00 dollars over 3 years and if each member of your club was able to do that you would become a model club. The idea is every bit helps and we can make a difference. Think of the little boy that was walking on the beach.

Clubs can also plan a fund raiser to support LCIF. The needs are not getting less and Lions are being asked to make a mark.

SILENT AUCTION

PCC Bob & PDG Kathy Morton are chairing the Silent Auction at the State Convention in Fort Wayne. We have asked the Governors from each district if they have specialties we would like a basket of goodies from there. If you know of any business that might donate a large item it would be appreciated. Lions can also donate whatever they might have. Let us know what you have to donate ahead of time. It can be brought to the convention or give us a call.

The money raised will be used to offset the cost of the convention.

Contact them at: Home 260-344-1339 or cell 260-388-1098 or kmorton65@hotmail.com

THE MEMBERSHIP CORNER

Well, we have made it through over half of the Lion year. As I checked our figures, I see that the District is at a minus 29 form where we were on July 1, 2018. This is not bad but it is not good either. I do know that there have been some clubs have not gotten their newest members reported.

So, let us look at a couple of things. First are you each doing your best to make your club one would like to be part of? Secondly, are your service projects relevant to both your community and to your members. Remember, we are asking people to come share in our service to others.

I would also like to take a moment to remind you of the challenge that was offered at the beginning of the year. Any club increasing their membership by 25% will receive a cash prize to use as the club sees fit. I also was made aware of a contest that says the district in Indiana that has the greatest number of new members in April of this year will receive a cash prize. With this information in mind let us see if we can't have a positive growth for the second year in a row. Last year we were one of only two districts in the state with a positive membership.

Remember that the "B" stands for the best district in the state.

JOIN THE LIONS IN MILAN!

The 102nd annual Lions Clubs International Convention will be in Milan, Italy, July 5 – 9, 2019. The Indiana delegation will be marching in the Parade of Nations on Saturday July 6th and the parade route winds among beautiful historical buildings ending up in the square where the unique masterpiece of the Milan Cathedral stands. The Milan Cathedral or Duomo di Milano in Italian, is the cathedral church of Milan, Italy. Dedicated to Saint Mary Nascent, it is the seat of the Archbishop of Milan. The Gothic cathedral took nearly six centuries to complete.

Italian Culture - a brief overview of Italian customs and traditions.

Italy is home to more than 62 million individuals as of 2017 and is ranked 23rd in population size when compared with other countries throughout the world. Italian culture is steeped in the arts, family, architecture, music and food. Home of the Roman Empire and a major center of the Renaissance, culture on the Italian peninsula has flourished for centuries.

Family is an extremely important value within the Italian culture," Talia Wagner, a Los Angeles-based marriage and family therapist. Their family solidarity is focused on extended family rather than the West's idea of "the nuclear family" of just a mom, dad and kids, Wagner explained. Italians have frequent family gatherings and enjoy spending time with those in their family. "Children are reared to remain close to the family upon adulthood and incorporate their future family into the larger network," said Wagner.

The Euro is the currency there and currently is worth more than the US dollar ($1.14 Euro versus $1 US). You may want to check with your bank to see if it provides a better exchange rate than what is offered in Italy. While credit cards are accepted at all of the larger stores and restaurant, the smaller and individually owned businesses may only deal in cash. Also the culture in Europe is that tips are not to be added onto the bill.

Art and architecture in Italy

Italy has given rise to a number of architectural styles, including classical Roman, Renaissance, Baroque and Neoclassical. Italy is home to some of the most famous structures in the world, including the Colosseum and the Leaning Tower of Pisa. The concept of a basilica — which was originally used to describe an open public court building and evolved to mean a Catholic pilgrimage site — was born in Italy. The word, according to the Oxford Dictionary, is derived from Latin and meant "royal palace." The word is also from the Greek basilikē, which is the feminine of basilikos which means "royal" or basileus, which means "king."

Italy also is home to many castles with the following in Milan. The Castello Borromeo d'Adda stands on the river banks of the Muzza at Cassano d'Adda, and dates from the 9th Century; restoration works here have even uncovered frescoes from the school of Giotto. In Legnano, the Castello di San Giorgio was built atop a pre-existing Augustinian convent in the 13th Century. In Cusago, the Visconti Castle is regarded as a major example of castle architecture in the region. And finally, in the zone south of Milan reside San Colombano al Lambro and the Castello Belgioioso, in addition to Casalpusterlengo, with its crenellated Tower of Pusterla.

Florence, Venice and Rome are home to many museums, but art can be viewed in churches and public buildings. Most notable is the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel of the Vatican, painted by Michelangelo sometime between 1508 and 1512.

Opera has its roots in Italy and many famous operas — including "Aida" and "La Traviata," both by Giuseppe Verdi, and "Pagliacci" by Ruggero Leoncavallo — were written in Italian and are still performed in the native language. More recently, Italian tenor Luciano Pavarotti made opera more accessible to the masses as a soloist and as part of the Three Tenors. Italy is home to a number of world-renowned fashion houses, including Armani, Gucci, Benetton, Versace and Prada.

Italian cuisine

Italian cuisine has influenced food culture around the world and is viewed as a form of art by many. Wine, cheese and pasta are important part of Italian meals. Pasta comes in a wide range of shapes, widths and lengths, including penne, spaghetti, linguine, fusilli and lasagna.

No one area of Italy eats the same things as the next. Each region has its own spin on "Italian food," according to CNN. For example, most of the foods that Americans view as Italian, such as spaghetti and pizza, come from central Italy. In the North of Italy, fish, potatoes, rice, sausages, pork and different types of cheeses are the most common ingredients. Pasta dishes with tomatoes are popular, as are many kinds of stuffed pasta, polenta and risotto. In the South, tomatoes dominate dishes, and they are either served fresh or cooked into sauce. Southern cuisine also includes capers, peppers, olives and olive oil, garlic, artichokes, eggplant and ricotta cheese.

Wine is also a big part of Italian culture, and the country is home to some of the world's most famous vineyards. The oldest traces of Italian wine were recently discovered in a cave near Sicily's southwest coast.

Questions about the Indiana delegation should be addressed to any of the committee members. If any of our members are interested in possible joining other Indiana Lions to form a group for airline tickets or group tours please let me know.
