Lion Lauren Reed, Lafayette Lions Club and the Event and Education Coordinator/Chef at the Prophetstown Farm/Catering. She thought a good Lions service project might be to provide eggs to the community for free. With a big push from Lauren, the farm is now giving away eggs to those who need them- neighbors, family, friends, people in need and DNR workers. (Photo by PDG Pat Short)

Brownsburg Lions held their first virtual meeting in April. They agreed upon holding electronic elections. It does not equal meeting in person, but hugs can be saved for safer times! Don't forget to collect used hearing aids. Indiana Lions Speech and Hearing is still open for business. (Provided by Lion Ray Furner)

The Zionsville Lions Club made a donation to the Zionsville Food Pantry to buy eggs for the year. The food pantry gives each client 2 dozen eggs per month, so around 240 dozen eggs a month. The Zionsville Lions also donated 150 cases of pop and 50 cases of water. There are 6 Lions that volunteer per week (Thursdays & Fridays) for 3 hr. shifts. (Photo by Lion Gail Robbins)

The Caring Center Food Pantry truck from Lebanon, Indiana, sat at St. Alphonsus Liguori Catholic Church in Zionsville for 2 days collecting donations from the community. Pictured working with the donations are Zionsville Lion Sue Bowron-White and her husband Gordon White. Sue has put together a group of Lions that travel together to Lebanon once a week to work at the Caring Center Food Pantry. They are working outside, and like the Zionsville Food Pantry, they take the food to the clients' cars as they drive up. (Photo by Lion Gail Robbins)

Spencer Lions have been busy with various projects in April: 5 shut-ins have been contacted, 36 masks sewn and given to security officers, 2 lawns mown twice for elderly and tree/debris removed from an elderly couple's yard after a wind storm.

PDG Pat Short has a "coffee date" once a week on the phone with a group of isolated people. They don't feel forgotten!
