Merry Christmas to all Lions!
WE are "Underway for Service"
District 25 D

A fun-filled November was capped off with a truly wonderful meeting at the Saratoga Club. I was like a proud new Dad with all the accomplishments that the district did in November. I'm looking at the upcoming schedule and I look at all the clubs that are scheduling Christmas baskets and Christmas dinners. I must look like a proud peacock with just filled with pride of this districts accomplishments.

I had dinner with the Global Service Team (GST) Chairman, Annita Hines, and we are at 65% reporting service. Please contact her if you are having trouble reporting that for your club in the portal. Her number is 765-546-0643. She has done great work in the GST position and that's why our district is at the level that it is.

Membership and Mission 1.5 is always at the top of my list about my job as your District Governor. I'm happy to say at the last reports, we had 28 new members and should be closing in on my goal of the year. With that said, I'd like all the Lions in district D to ask someone to join. It is really important that we set the foundations for your clubs by building today.

Special Olympics money needs to be turned in by 31 December so we can calculate the needed funds for this organization. We have done so much this year and I'm thinking our goal is within reach. Help us meet another of 25 D's goals with contributions and collections for the Special Olympics.

The mid-winter conference is in January. If you have a new Lion, or an experienced Lion, going to the Conference will only enhance the knowledge of those who attend. The schedule will be coming out soon. The dates are January 17 – 18, 2025.

I know we are talking about next year already and Christmas hasn't even happened yet. During the month of February, I want to attempt to have all district clubs do a GrandKids meeting for that kids can enjoy being with our Lion grandparents. February is LOVE month. I don't know any better month to bring the Grandkids to a meeting and boost about them with other Lion Grandparents. Let's show your love and have our clubs celebrate Grandkids. December is here and we as Lions have things to do. I was trying to make a point to call your Lions for help. I had to do it and I got an excellent response. I thank those Lions who answered the call for help. Heck, that's what Lions Do... (Many Thanks!)

So, I'll end this newsletter with special greetings to all Lions everywhere. MERRY CHRISTMAS to all and to all a good night !

Yours in Lionism,
Rocky, DGE

If they see you, do they actually see you?

If I say, "Coke," I know exactly what pops into your mind. I even know what the font is. Coca-Cola doesn't even have a K in it, but you think of the sugary drink. That is effective branding. Coke understands the importance of Brand Recognition. Does your club understand how important brand recognition is in your community?

If members of your community see your club out doing service projects or a fund raising, do they know that it is your club doing the work? How would they know? Do you have a club uniform or easily recognizable attire that makes you stick out from the crowd? Having your community aware that their local Lions Club is active and doing all the great things that Lions do is a sure way to get people interested in being a Lion. You must show who is doing that project - do not assume that they know.

How do you show that Lions have done a service project once it is completed? Yard signs are an effective and budget friendly way to go. Yard signs are also a good way to display an ongoing project or one to happen in the near future. For a more permanent fixture, a display plaque may be the way to go. Do you ever do joint projects with other service clubs or volunteer organizations? Be sure that your club gets credit by having your club name and logo listed in the credits for that project.

How do you show your Lion Pride? Do you wear Lions apparel to your meetings? Do you have a sign in your yard proclaiming you're proudly serving your community? One of the easiest ways to show your support of Lions only takes one action and thousands will see it. Get a Lions license plate for your vehicle. You only have to do it once, and it renews just by paying for your plates every year. You have to do that anyway. The simple act of wearing a Lions hat, a Lions pin, or a Lions shirt could be the catalyst that starts the conversation that brings the next member into the Lions family. Never pass up an opportunity to share your great experiences in the Lions Club with someone new.

Lions of District 25-D:

Greetings to all! As we enter the holiday season, I wanted to take a moment to say thank you. Thank you for being you. Thank you for being willing to step outside of yourself and help others. The world is better because of the effort you put into serving your community.

You are doing an amazing job!

Since last month, I have had several conversations with Lions who spoke about the hard time they had getting started as a Lion because there is so much to know, and they did not know where to start. So, before we get to talking about how to use the list of names you have been developing for several months (I promise, we will talk about that next month), here are a few ideas for getting new Lions off to a good start.

1. Create a “quick start” packet for each new member. This can include your club roster, your club annual calendar with meetings and events, who to contact with questions, and how to get into the Lions Portal with the Lions Membership Number.
2. Have an orientation event. You can do this during one of your regular meetings or as a separate event, but a suggestion is to do this with as much of the club as possible because there are many long-time members that probably do not know all the ins and outs. As part of this, demonstrate how to get into the Lions Portal.
3. Introduce them to the Lions Learning Center. I keep mentioning the Portal because, while it has some shortcomings, the Learning Center has awesome videos and training that each member can do at their own pace. When you log into the Portal, the word “Learning”, the middle option on the toolbar. There is then a big yellow button that says “GO” under the Lions Learning Center title. On the new page, you can select “Content Library” to see listings and search for many topics.
4. Encourage all Lions to attend the Mid-Winter Conference. It is on January 18, 2025, at the Crowne Plaza Airport Hotel. This is not just for “leaders” but any Lion that wants to learn more about being a Lion as there are 14 seminars and 8 “Speed Learning” topics from which to choose. Register at <https://e-district.org/sites/md25/index.php>

Again, Thank you for all you do as a Lion. When we go around the Thanksgiving table to say what we are thankful for this year, I am going to say “All of the fabulous Lions I have met, and the many more that I haven’t, that are changing the world for the better!”

Union City Lions Club Celebration

The Union City Lions met at the Community Center on Tuesday night for their last regular meeting of the calendar year. The meal, prepared by Diana Dubeansky, consisted of Salisbury steak, mashed potatoes, green beans, and pineapple upside-down cake.

The program for the evening was presented by Julie Kozicki, the Indiana Lions District 25D Immediate Past Governor. Julie is a member of the Noblesville, Indiana Lions Club. She encouraged the club to support Jim in any way we can during his very busy year as governor.

Between now and next summer, Jim will be busy filling his slate of people to fill district positions and planning his calendar for the many events and club visits he will make. He will represent Union City all across east central Indiana as he visits the 34 Lions Clubs in our district. During his year as governor, Banner Night and the District Convention will take place in Union City and bring Lions from all over the district into Union City.

Westfield Lions Raise Over $25K at “Poker for Sight” Tournament:

Joshua Koblneck Takes Home $10,000 1st Place Prize

On Friday and Saturday, November 15th and 16th over 260 poker players competed in the Westfield Lions Club’s semi-annual “Poker for Sight” tournament. Over $25,000 in prize money was paid out, with Joshua Kublnick coming in first place and claiming the $10,000 prize. The first thing Joshua said when he received his check was that it would be going toward the downpayment of a house he is trying to buy.

For the tournament, the Lions netted just over $25,000, which will go toward the numerous organizations and projects supported by the club. Prior to each of three qualifying sessions and the final round the Lions presented $1500 “Big Checks” to organizations that work with veterans, blind students, citizens that struggle to afford health care, and the homeless. This year's recipients of the Big Checks were the Indiana Blind Children's Foundation, Pets Healing Vets, the Heart & Soul Free Clinic, and Habitat for Humanity.

The IBCF is the fundraising arm of the Indiana School for the Blind and Visually Impaired. Lions Clubs International places a major emphasis on supporting organizations that fight the causes of blindness and helps those suffering from it. This has been part of LCI's focus since Helen Keller challenged LCI to be "Knights of the Blind" at the 1926 LCI convention. To learn more about IBCF and the ISBVI, and how you can support them, go to www.indianabcf.org.

Pets Healing Vets is a program run by the Humane Society of Hamilton County. It works to pair up veterans suffering from PTSD and TBI with carefully selected shelter animals. Funds raised for Pets Healing Vets go to helping defray the cost of pet ownership for these veterans. You can help support this amazing program by going to www.hamiltonhumane.com/programs/pets-healing-vets.

The Heart & Soul Free Clinic in Westfield is an organization the Westfield Lions have been committed to supporting for several years. Providing free medical services to those who can't afford them fits perfectly with the Lions Club's motto "we serve". The number of people in Hamilton County utilizing Heart & Soul's services continues to grow every year. Please consider supporting this tremendous organization by going to www.heartandsoulclinic.org.

Prior to the championship round on Saturday night, the Lions presented Habitat for Humanity with a Big Check to help with their projects in Central Indiana. Habitat for Humanity brings citizens together to help build homes for those battling homelessness and needing a hand up. You can support the Central Indiana Chapter of HFH by going to www.indyhabitat.org.

The Westfield Lions' next tournament is scheduled for April 25th and 26th of 2025. To find out more about the tournament and how to register, go to www.lionspoker.org. In the meantime, the Westfield Lions are looking for men and women interested in making a difference in our community. Please go to www.westfieldlions.org to find out more about the club and how to become a member.

Russiaville Lions Host an Evening with Pastor Jamie Lyon

Our Nov. 18th Lions club meeting provided our Russiaville community with a unique opportunity to see and learn from Pastor Jamie Lyon, the Pastor of the Russiaville Friends Meeting. Jamie shared his talents by using his painting skills while he presented the Gospel message and his patriotic tribute to many soldiers who were tragically killed during WWII in a transport vessel that was attacked and sunk – including two of his uncles. The bodily remains of Pastor Lyon’s (US Army) family members and their Army colleagues went unmarked to the depths of the Mediterranean Sea. Pastor Lyon’s tribute was poignant, powerful and patriotic. He also made a point of thanking us Russiaville Lions for providing our clubhouse as a safe and inviting meeting place for the members of Scout Troop 519.
