

District 25 D “We are Underway for Service”

March Madness is coming to an end and April always brings the showers. Spring has arrived and, in most cases, the good days are mixed with the not so good days.

On March 6, 7, 8 & 9th, I had the privilege of meeting and escorting our special guest, International Director (ID), Judge Anthony Paradiso, around the District 25 D area. Judge Anthony, got to see vision screening at the Eastern Performing Arts building in Greentown. The eighth-grade class of 120 students took a little less than one hour to screen. Lion Henry Rodriguez ran through the procedure for the ID so he had a good idea of what the students would be doing and how the evaluation of the student's sight would be recorded. The day's screening ended up spotlighting 20 students that may need glasses or at least a trip to the optometrist to get a better look at their vision. It helps to see better to read better.

After the school trip, ID made his way to the Howard County 4H-Fairgrounds to meet Lion Maggie Guyer of the Greentown Lions Horse and Pony Club. Judge Anthony was interested in the youth in the club and how they might make the transition from Horse and Pony Club to a Lions Club. The group then made their way to the Greentown Fairground's Round Barn, which is the centerpiece to the Christmas lights display and many other areas that are used year-round to promote the 4H program and most importantly, the Greentown Lions Club. The tour was completed at the Russiaville Lions Club Environmental Project.

On Saturday, March 8, the district put on the convention at Greentown Lions Club. It was an early start for many Lions and the reports kept us on the edge of our seats. The ID presented awards to Mike Imbler for his work for LCIF, Jeff Kozicki for his effort in starting a new club in Muncie. Anglia Mounsey and Mike Careins received Certificates of Appreciation from Judge Paradiso for their work as Diabetes Chairman for the State and Global Extension Team Chair for his work at Gas City Lions Club.

I would personally like to thank all the Veterans who were present and made the Flag Presentation to the new US Citizen so special. Lion Grethel Mendoza appreciated your military bearing during the flag presentation. That's was a moment she'll always remember.

On Sunday the 9th, we said good bye to Judge Anthony at the Indianapolis Airport. We didn't get to experience a breaded tenderloin, but the ID was invited back someday to experience more Hoosier hospitality (I think he'll come back here soon).

So here we stand for the Mission 1.5 goal of 34 new members. We are at 27 with adding the Gas City Lions Club. We are 10 members behind District A. I have faith in our district that we will rise to the occasion and make the district proud. Our other goals of 100 % service have been accomplished. That is key to us as Lions and documentation of our motto, "We Serve". LCIF, Lions Clubs International Foundation, has us a little behind on our goals, but most of the big fundraisers happen between now and the end of summer. Please contact Mike Imbler or Steve Holtzleiter for any questions or request for how the process works.

Training the next set of club leaders is important. The team of district 25 D scheduled training at the following locations. For Club Presidents, Vice Presidents, Secretaries, Treasurers and Membership Chairs, two available sessions will be at Westfield Lions Club, June 11 from 6-8 PM and also at the Saratoga Lions Club from 6 – 8 PM on the 30th of June. You only need to only attend one. The training for Zone Chairs will be in Gas City at Fire House No. 2 on Saturday 21 June from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM for 4 hours, Lunch will be provided. Please call Doug Lozier at 317-408-0615 to register for the training. I think you'll find it informative for the new club leaders.

Let's plan for May and our Beautify a Park prep. Every weekend in May we'll be doing things to the park on Wildcat Creek, south of Greentown. It will be fun to get out and do something important for others to enjoy the park.

District 25 D has done a great job this year. Besides the membership enrollment, I'm tickled pink of all our accomplishments. You, as Lions in this District, should be proud of all you do. I'm blessed to have a great team behind me and we have a great team coming. During our convention, we elected a new District Governor, Jim Dubeansky, new 1VDG, Mike Careins, and new 2VDG, Christine Woodward, starting 1 July 2025. I'm impressed with the talent coming to carry on the goals and service to our district. If you get a chance, say "hi" and "congratulations" to our new board as they start the new Lions year with fresh ideas and other projects to enhance our district. Please give them the max support that you gave me. I know they will do well.

Yours in Lionism,
Rocky

25D District Convention

The 25D convention was held on Saturday, March 8. Our guest for the day was International Director, Dr. Anthony Paradiso. While he was in the area, DG Rocky took Dr. Paradiso to several locations around Greentown, Kokomo, and Russiaville. There were lots of celebrations on Saturday, too.

Past District Governors Report

Past District Governors – did you know there's a page of resources and information on the main LionsClubs.org site just for PDGs? Search for "past district governor" in the member resource center for more information on how you can use your Lions knowledge to support our district.

Hello Fellow Lions:

Hope you're all doing great! The weather is starting to go in the right direction just as our membership numbers are going up. I know Union city had 2 new members that joined, as our Governor Swore them in during his club visit. We have a few more coming in the near future and hope to hear from other clubs the same great news.

I made a visit to Westfield's new Lions Club building on March 27. WOW! What a beautiful building - very well designed and laid out. Their club has worked very hard and needs to be proud of their new building. It's fabulous and every one of their members were so kind. Thank you for having me and my wife. It was very much appreciated. We will see you in October for sure.

April is a busy month for sure, with the State Convention coming up at Shishewana. Hopefully everybody's registered and got their lodging reservations made. If not, you might be camping out somewhere. Hope to see everybody there and excited to get there. One reason is their Custard Pie which is my all-time favorite pie. I'll make sure I get my fill of it while there.

Yeah, I've been asked if I am ready for the new position as Governor and my reply is, "ready as I'll ever be." I've got a good support team and a fabulous mentor and a great team behind me. With all that being said, I feel I'll be ok and in good hands. Plus, my district D is a fabulous district because of all the great clubs and hardworking people in those clubs. I feel more relaxed than I was at first.

I have been told to get a physical and make sure my health is good to go because in the past, some of our governors became sick or had heart issues. Well, I've had a check-up and a cardiologist check-up recently and I am all good to go! I am ready to start my mission when the time comes.

I continue to make club visits with our Governor and pick up things from him and the clubs I visit to hear what's going on. I am always open for a visit, but I know being so far east that I've got lots of driving ahead of me. I already figured out. Keep bringing in those new members and speaking highly of our club to others about what we do. Thank you again for your support you've given me. I plan to be the best I can be as your next governor.

Sincerely yours:
Jim Dubeansky
Governor Elect./District 25D

Mentoring Young Lions Club Members Into Tomorrow's Leaders

Mentorship is the foundation of any successful organization, and the Lions Club is no exception. As one of the world's largest service organizations, the Lions Club thrives on leadership, vision, and dedication to community service. To ensure its continued growth and impact, experienced members must take on the responsibility of mentoring young Lions Club members, guiding them into becoming tomorrow's leaders.

How do we know who might become the leaders of tomorrow?

I seriously doubt that the Lions that I consider my Mentors looked at me as a goofy 15 year old running the weedeater at the fairgrounds and thought "that's a future District Governor right there." The thing is I have service in my heart. That is what has lead me to be a leader as a Lion. I love helping people. We can develop a good young Lion into a good servant leader.

Why Mentorship Matters in the Lions Club

The strength of the Lions Club lies in its members, particularly those who will carry its mission forward in the future. Mentorship fosters leadership skills, builds confidence, and ensures that the core values of service, integrity, and collaboration are upheld across generations. Through mentorship, young Lions develop the necessary skills to take on leadership roles, manage projects, and inspire others to serve their communities effectively.

Recommendations for Mentoring Your Young Lions

1. Instilling the Values of Leadership and Service

A great leader is first and foremost a servant. Mentors should emphasize the Lions Club's motto, "We Serve," helping young members understand that leadership is not about authority but about making a difference in people's lives. Encouraging participation in community projects, organizing service initiatives, and fostering a spirit of compassion will shape young Lions into impactful leaders.

2. Providing Hands-On Experience

Leadership is best learned through experience. Young Lions should be given opportunities to take charge of events, lead fundraising campaigns, and manage service projects. By guiding them through these responsibilities and offering constructive feedback, mentors help them develop essential organizational and problem-solving skills.

3. Encouraging Personal and Professional Growth

Beyond club activities, mentoring should also focus on individual growth. Providing career advice, enhancing public speaking skills, and encouraging networking within the Lions community can set young members up for success both inside and outside the club.

4. Teaching Effective Communication and Teamwork

Successful Lions Club leaders must be able to communicate their ideas effectively and collaborate with diverse groups. Mentors should teach young members how to express themselves clearly, resolve conflicts diplomatically, and work harmoniously with others to achieve common goals.

5. Creating a Supportive and Inclusive Environment

A strong mentorship program fosters a welcoming environment where young Lions feel valued and empowered. Encouraging open dialogue, recognizing achievements, and providing guidance during challenges will help them gain confidence and a sense of belonging in the organization.

Practical Ways to Mentor Young Lions

- Pair New Members with Experienced Mentors – Assigning a seasoned member as a mentor to each new recruit fosters one-on-one guidance and a strong support system.
- Host Leadership Workshops – Organize training sessions on topics like public speaking, event planning, and conflict resolution to enhance leadership skills.
- Encourage Participation in Lions Leadership Programs – Programs like the Lions Leadership Institutes offer excellent learning opportunities for young members to develop their leadership potential.
- Provide Continuous Feedback and Recognition – Regularly acknowledge young Lions' contributions and provide constructive feedback to encourage growth and improvement.
- Lead by Example – Mentors should embody the values of dedication, service, and ethical leadership, inspiring young members through their actions.

Mentoring young Lions Club members is not just about preparing them to take on leadership roles; it is about equipping them with the skills, values, and vision to serve their communities effectively. By investing in mentorship, today's Lions ensure that the organization remains strong, dynamic, and impactful for generations to come. Through guidance, encouragement, and hands-on experiences, young Lions can confidently step into leadership roles, carrying forward the legacy of service and making a lasting difference in the world.

Lions of District 25-D:

Greetings to all Lions. In honor of Indiana native David Letterman, whose birthday is April 12th, I present you with a Lions Top Ten List (er, Top Five, they only give me so much space):

The Top Five Reasons to avoid Zone, District and State Lion Events

#5. I am very busy and have other things to do.

Definitely. We all have the same limited amount of time, and it seems we have less of it every day. Of course, we decide where we want to invest our time. Interacting with Lions from other areas will help us all be more productive with the time we do have and find new and interesting things to do with that time.

#4. The events are too far away, are boring, etc.

Some events at a distance. A plan is needed to get to them (consider sharing the trip with a few friends). Similarly, events might be dry at times (no, really, I love all committee reports). However, I have learned something new or heard an exciting and motivating story that I could take back to my club at every event I have attended. Set a goal for what you want out of the event and watch it happen.

#3. I don't know anyone there.

And that is a great reason to go. There are fabulous Lions everywhere. One purpose for these events is so we can all meet and build our circle of positive experiences.

#2. I only want to help my community.

Most people join their local Lions Club to help their immediate community. This is the focus of the Clubs and that is great. But if we only meet with our own club, where will new ideas come from? You might find a new or better way to help your community.

#1. The events are only for "important" Lions.

YOU ARE THE IMPORTANT LIONS! It doesn't matter what position someone has or had. We are all Lions together working to make the world better and that works best when we come together to share our ideas and enthusiasm.

All of which is another way to say Lion Events provide Fun, Fellowship, and Fulfillment. Come and find out for yourself. As always, thank you for being a Lion!

Noblesville Lions Honored by Visit of 25D District Governor

On the evening of March 26th Noblesville Lions Club President Jeff Kozicki introduced the 25D Governor, David “Rocky” Simpson. Rocky is a member of the Greentown, IN Lions Club; and happens to also be the district governor. Rocky highlighted all the good things clubs in his district have been doing this Lion’s year. He noted that the Noblesville club has been noted as an “Excellence Club” and presented our club leadership with a couple items of memorabilia. Rocky also highlighted the activities of Lions International, and what great things Lions are doing around the world.

Lions and SOS Club Serve the Miracle League (and Pancakes)

Raises $2250 For Program Helping Disabled Play Baseball

On Saturday, March 29th the Westfield Lions Club helped the Westfield H.S. Service Over Self (S.O.S.) Club serve pancakes and raise funds for the Miracle League of Westfield. This is the third year in a row the S.O.S. Club has teamed up with the Lions to support the Miracle League.

Megan Springer, the WHS sponsor for the S.O.S. Club did an amazing job (again) facilitating the event and organizing the students to plan, promote, and run the breakfast. The Westfield Lions provided support by purchasing the supplies and volunteering to serve alongside the S.O.S. Club at the breakfast. The Lions have been supporting and serving the S.O.S. Club since it was formed during Covid. Before that, the Lions worked with the WHS LEO Club for 12 years serving the community and raising funds for various charities.

The Lions and the S.O.S. Club owe a huge debt of gratitude to the WHS Food Service staff for their help making the last three pancake breakfasts successful. Paul Sherrer, Director of Food Services for the WHS School District, managed the coordination of setting up and holding the breakfast in the high school's cafeteria. He and his staff members spent their Saturday morning assisting the S.O.S. Club and making sure the event ran smoothly.

The Miracle League of Westfield is an amazing organization that provides the opportunity for children and adults with disabilities to play the game of baseball. They run the program out of the Roundtripper Sports Academy at 16708 Southpark Drive in Westfield. For more information on how the Miracle League is helping bring joy of the game of baseball to kids and adults that haven't been able to play the game, go to www.miracleleagueofwestfield.com. You can see firsthand how the program works and what you can do to support it.

The Westfield Lions Club has been serving the community since 1930, and they are looking for men and women that would like to help them in the mission. Please go to www.westfieldlions.org to find out more about the Club and how you can become a member.

First Aid for the Blind Offers Life-Changing Skills
Westfield Lion Provides Training for Blind Individuals

Kurt Deichmann, a member of the Westfield Lions Club, walks the talk of Lions Clubs International's charge to be "Knights of Blind." Not only does Deichmann regularly serve alongside his fellow Lions, but he does so while being 100 percent blind and running his own business. He started First Aid for the Blind (FAFTB) in 2023 to help those on a journey of vision loss to learn valuable individual living skills.

On March 6, Deichmann was the speaker at the Westfield Lions' monthly "Program Night" to introduce his FAFTB efforts. FAFTB provides training and tools to help blind and visually impaired people learn to live life to the fullest. The training includes 25 lessons taught over Zoom by blind trainers who bring unparalleled compassion and knowledge to each session. The program also allows for a "training buddy," usually a family member or friend, who can attend the lessons with the client to offer moral support and get a first-hand look at the new skills and adaptations that are possible for blind folks. The ultimate goal of FAFTB is to replace fear of the unknown with feelings of hope and confidence.

FAFTB-approved devices include an $800 iPhone with unique software, an Amazon Echo device, and a digital recorder. The devices FAFTB provides, along with the training fees, run $3,500. So far, the majority of his clients have been able to obtain grants for the training from the State of Indiana's Vocational Rehabilitation department, meaning they have received FAFTB assistance without needing to front the cost.

Deichmann's original goal when he started FAFTB was to help 10 clients during his first year. He ended up completing training for 50 clients located across Indiana! He is now looking to expand his service and impact further by developing a 501(c)3 organization that will raise funds to provide scholarships that can help cover the costs of the training and the equipment.

Deichmann, who suffers from retinitis pigmentosa, has embraced the challenges of his blindness and found ways to utilize technology to significantly improve his quality of life. One of his favorite devices is the high-tech Ray-Ban Meta Smart Glasses, which have built-in cameras and speakers and connect to the internet. The glasses can tell him what he is looking at and take pictures of the scene in front of him, while also telling him the weather forecast, the score of the Cubs game, and more.

In 1925, Helen Keller challenged Lions Clubs International to become "Knights of the Blind" – to assist those with vision-related issues and to help fund ways to eliminate the causes of blindness. Kurt Deichmann has risen to the challenge!

Deichmann is available to speak at events and programs to spread the word on FAFTB's life-changing service. If your club or organization is interested in having him speak at one of your meetings, please contact him at admin@faftb.com or visit FAFTB's website at www.faftb.com.
