A New Era Begins For Lions

A NEW ERA BEGINS FOR LIONS

NAMASTE!

Progress can come with a steep price. As people worldwide enjoy fast food and work non-strenuous jobs, diabetes has become a global crisis. My own nation, hardly wealthy, is a case in point. India is known as “the diabetes capital of the world” with a staggering 50 million people suffering from type 2 diabetes. The statistics in the United States are bleak as well. In New York, a city with access to fruits and vegetables, an estimated 800,000 adults— more than one in every eight—now have diabetes. Nationwide, the picture is even grimmer. One in three children born in the United States is expected to have diabetes in their lifetimes, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The toll on society will be enormous. Diabetes can lead to heart disease, stroke, kidney damage and nerve damage. It also causes blindness.

Lions Clubs International (LCI) will not sit on the sidelines as the disease mounts. We will be in the thick of efforts to prevent and treat the disease. At our 100th International Convention in July in Chicago we formally announced our new commitment to curtailing diabetes. Echoing Helen Keller’s appeal to Lions in 1925 at their convention to become Knights of the Blind, Keller Johnson-Thompson, Keller’s great grand-niece, urged Lions and Leos to take on this new challenge.

“Will you not constitute yourselves to continue to be Knights of the Blind in this crusade against darkness through your work with diabetes?” she asked tens of thousands of Lions near the end of the final plenary session.

The focus on diabetes is part of LCI’s new global service framework. We are directing our energies and resources toward vision, hunger, the environment, pediatric cancer and diabetes. We’re building on our traditions but also giving Lions new ways to serve. Lions can continue to support their local causes, of course, but we ask clubs and districts to contribute to the five areas of focus.

Johnson-Thompson dramatically rung the bell that was struck at the 1925 international convention to ring in Lions’ work with the blind and visually impaired. For 100 years Lions have always answered the bell. I am fully confident that we will rise to the challenge and fight back against the modern scourge of diabetes.

A Message From Our 2017-2018 President

Greetings Lions;

As promised, you will hear membership loud and often. Our membership chair, Lion Diane Gardy, has been busy selling off the pepperoni that we have left and also pushing membership in the Club. Several Lions have joined me at Smiley's Independent selling tickets and also promoting our other events and membership. We have made contact with a couple of people that showed interest and hopefully we can welcome them to Lionism. I am constantly amazed that for an organization that has been around for 100 years, there are so many people that don't know who we are or what we do---it's our job to get that message out. We are currently using all our opportunities, ticket sales, Spaghetti dinners etc to bring that message forward and to encourage membership—we will promote membership at every event-----I am a firm believer that membership is a one to one proposition and far outweighs any efforts that may be done by advertising. It is each members responsibility to promote membership, not just the Chair. Go get em! Lions Roar

President Lion Andy (The Younger)

A Note From The Bulletin Editor

Once again I had the privilege to share the company of Lion Mike Seymour and his better half Beverley as we teamed up to pick up donations door to door for the Care & Share Food Bank. It was surprising to us that we were instructed to not knock on doors this year, not being ones to follow illogical orders, we knocked anyway and as Mike said afterwards, "If we had not knocked on the doors we would have ended up with less than half of what we did get." People forget to put their bags out or didn't know it was being held on that day or simply had no idea that there was a need. The old saying; "Ask and you shall receive" seemed to rule the day.

The fact that we need a food bank in today's affluent society is troublesome but the fact exists that we do need it to help young single mothers and their children nourish themselves. It is a heart break to think that without a food bank people would go to bed hungry in our community. I was troubled by the no knock rule, but more so the poor percentage of homes participating through donations. Perhaps the food bank should look at communicating their needs and up and coming events with greater clarity and in a variety of media outlets.

A Cameo Snap Shot Of A Club Member

I was given my first train set when I was 7 and have been drawn to the raw power of these machines ever since. My dad and brothers built my first table which was 8 X 16. I started building my latest table last winter and although it is smaller than the last one, it still allows for lots of realistic action and keeps me occupied. This table is 8.5 ft X 14.5 ft and must be operated from inside. There are three separate blocks of track that have their own transformer and provide their own unique operations. None of the areas are finished at this time and will probably take me another couple of years to finish. Some areas of scenery have been started, others have not, but these are long and slow to complete. The next major project is electrics, all the switches and signals have to be wired and a control panel built (big job). Today, the collection includes approximately 70 engines, about half steam and half diesel with about 100 pcs of rolling stock covering all eras from the early 1900's to the present day---everything from stock cars to passenger, general freight to car carriers and bulk flat cars. Future plans include a lumber yard, gravel pit, barn with a small farm area. a used window company--the scrap yard is about 90% done.

Anyone that is interested is welcome to come and see the set up or if you have children in the family that may enjoy them, please feel free to give me a call and come for a visit.
