

Invocation

May we all remember, with respect, our traditions of the past and, at the same time, have the vision to see where our future lies, and have the strength to accept any challenges and changes we may have ahead of us.

Together in Lionism.