What a whirlwind four weeks of District Conventions.

Each Convention provided valuable breakout sessions on various Lion activities and goals. Every attendee was treated like Kings and Queens. 3H actually had a King, PDG Perry Neel, and a Queen PID Pat Shurley. They looked great in their Crowns, Robes, and multi-colored beads.

Starting January 26 with 3K at St. Crispin's Conference Center in Wewoka. The setting is woodsy and cozy and great for networking. On Friday night we roasted marshmallows outside with Director Brian Sheehan and his wife Lori then we made smores. I have never had smores. They are now on my favorite food list.

The next Saturday February 2nd we went to the 3A Convention in Fairview. On the way up on Friday night we stopped and had pizza with the International Director Bob Corlew and his wife Diane at the new Lions EMT center and ambulance garage in Garber. The Convention in Fairview began with a pancake breakfast at the Fairview United Methodist Church.

On February 9th we were at the 3H Convention in the Village. They had a Madres Gras theme and all the food was cooked Cajun style by nine different 3H Clubs.

The 3L Convention was held on February 16th at the Apache Casino in Lawton. The Casinos around Oklahoma offer exceptional amenities with great service at a low cost. On Friday night PID David Fiandt and several of us went to Meer's, OK and ate at the famous Meer's Cafe. I had been promising Mary for 25 years we would go to Meer's...we now have that off our bucket list.

You might say that the only thing I mentioned was what we ate. Breaking bread with your fellow Lions is something we all need to do. Why? We have to slow down and interact with one another and then we learn about one another. And besides.....where there are Lions, there is food!

LAUGH FOR THE HEALTH OF IT

Carol Dean Schreiner

Laughter is one of the most needed commodities today. Laughter radiates a positive attitude, a winning personality, and stimulates alertness. Learn how to make daily situations laughable. Humor produces a twinkle in the eye, is non-fattening, and has no bad side effects. It is often exactly what the doctor ordered!

We are excited to have Carol Dean Schreiner to speak at this year's Multiple District 3 Lions of Oklahoma State Convention. Carol is a national known speaker/trainer/author/radio talk show host. She was the first Women President of the Oklahoma Speakers Association, a chapter of the National Speakers Association. She was awarded their Chapter Member of the Year twice. She has earned the Toastmasters International's Distinguished Toastmasters award and has spoken at the Toastmasters International Conventions three times. She's listed in the 1993 Oxfords Who's Who Elite Registry of Extraordinary People. She's authored, Wonder Woman Doesn't Live Here Anymore, Laugh for the Health of It, Steps to Storytelling and Fabulous at Fifty, Sexy at Sixty and Sin-Sational at Seventy.

Besides speaking she has conducted many workshops for speakers plus is a trainer for various companies. Carol has studied with some of the nation's top trainers in areas of motivation, injecting use of humor, and self-improvement. She shares her humor across the US, Canada and Europe, speaking from experience as a former cosmetics director, executive director for a non-profit organization, secretary, and even a truck drive on wheat harvest.. You will discover she is a forceful but gracious presence that is blessed with the kind of humor and down-home warmth that has rightfully had her referred to as the Erma Bombeck of Oklahoma. She is the mother of five grown children. Carol makes a living by what she gets out of life, but she makes a life by what she gives to others. She's real...She's funny...She's inspiring, She's motivating, She's exciting and energetic.

Can you spare some Change?

Troy Jenkins Oklahoma Lions Service Foundation Executive Director

"It is not necessary to change. Survival is not mandatory."

W. Edwards Deming – American statistician, professor, author, lecturer and consultant

Over the last month, I have had the pleasure of attending four district conventions. As always, this is a great time to catch up with Lions throughout the state, share in some recognition, and exchange ideas. Though there were a lot of great moments, a few really stood out to me.

The District 3-K convention provided a couple of these moments. International Director Brian Sheehan proved to be informative, enthusiastic, energetic, and entertaining. One point that he really emphasized was the fact that we are not the same organization we were 50 years ago, or 20 years ago. In fact, we are not the same organization we were even 10 years ago. He encouraged all of us to be "Agents of Change," a call to service that comes directly from our International President. Those in attendance were noticeably moved by Sheehan's presentation; the room was charged with excitement. The question before us, though, is whether we will fan the flames of this excitement and carry the torch for change or, instead, let the embers fade to black and continue to hope that our drop in membership will magically heal itself.

It is no secret that as Lions, we are part of the greatest service organization on the planet. At the District 3-L convention Past International Director David Fandt summed it up beautifully with this statement: "We Serve' is the simplest answer when people ask 'Who are you Lions and what do you do?'" As Oklahoma Lions, we do just that. We Serve! We serve in our local communities, at the state level with projects like the Oklahoma Lions Eye Bank and the Oklahoma Lions Boys Ranch, as well as with Briggs Memorial scholarships and the Mobile Health Screening Unit, and at the international level. Where it seems we have the most ground to make up, though, is in being Agents of Change.

In another great presentation during the 3-K convention, it was recommended that when recruiting new members, do not take "no" for an answer. Stay on potential recruits and offer to personally pick them up and take them to meetings. While this is a fantastic idea, and shows a lot of enthusiasm, what if the meetings themselves are one of the reasons some of the younger folks are not joining? The general consensus these days seems to be that the younger generation has no interest in serving their community, or in giving of themselves for the betterment of others. Anybody who has ever witnessed the enthusiasm and sheer will on display when an organization of young adults attacks a service project can tell you that this is obviously not the case! So maybe the answer lies elsewhere. Maybe the traditional club model is not as enticing to some as it is to us. To be very clear, I love my club. I am very proud to be a member of the Stillwater Noon Lions, and enjoy getting together with great friends every week (when I am not speaking to another club in the state). I enjoy the fellowship and the camaraderie with other like-minded Lions (not to mention the eating – as most of you know, this is one of my favorite past-times). But, as a relatively young Lion, I have a lot of friends that do not feel the same way. There may be a variety of reasons for this. Some just do not feel they can take the time away from family or work to commit to attending regular meetings. Some just feel that meetings are a waste of time; anything accomplished at a meeting could be accomplished much more quickly and efficiently using email or social media. Whatever the case, this does not mean that they do not want to serve. It just means that they want to do it in a fashion that fits their lifestyle.

The bottom line is this: the membership of the Lions of Oklahoma has dropped nearly 60% over the past 25 years or so. Instead of decrying the lack of interest in the younger generation, why not be an Agent of Change and offer them different ways to serve? In LCI's extension material, they point out that today's volunteer is focused on service, not administrative duties, titles, or protocol. Why not capitalize on this information, and try some outside-the-box thinking to bring in new members? This does not mean that you have to change your club. The Tulsa Downtown Lions Club (a Founder's Club) recently did something really simple: they added one evening meeting a month, and immediately picked up a number of new members who could not make it to their Tuesday noon meetings.

Ultimately, being an Agent of Change has nothing to do with age; it is a matter of being open to new ideas! Think about starting an online club. It only takes five new members to get it rolling. Most clubs could probably look at Lions that dropped over the last few years and find five members that enjoyed serving, but could not make it to meetings and dropped their membership. Think about starting a branch club in a community next to yours that does not currently have a club. Like any other branch club, this can be done with just five new members, which is a lot easier than finding 20 or 30 members and starting a club from scratch. Think about holding one meeting a month at a different time or day to open up your membership to potential Lions that cannot make it to your current meetings?

Being a Lion is an honor and a privilege! Let's make sure that everybody knows it! Let's get the next generation involved and excited and ensure that the long legacy of Lions in Oklahoma continues. Don't let the embers die! Let's fan the flames of excitement and join in the crusade as Agents of Change. This is an exciting time to be a Lion in Oklahoma; our future is wide open! Do not fear new ideas, but embrace change and encourage others to join us as We Serve!

Greetings:

You will recall in the beginning of this fiscal year, July 1, 2012, the one thing I stressed is that we can be assured of "change." This January, we Governors and others, were informed of another "change" that is to take place July 1, 2013. We each have been aware that our terms as Governors will cease; however, an additional "change" will happen as well. Our long standing "Lions State Secretary" Virginia Rodriguez, will step down from her position. We Oklahoma Lions will miss this lady since we have come to depend on her for giving us guidance, steering us in our duties and patting us on the back when we most need that pat.

We have already had highly qualified applicants for her position. Our 2013/2014 Lions Governors will have the task of breaking in this "change" of a new State Secretary. We wish them well!

PONCA NOON LIONS CLUB has reported that their Club in conjunction with OK Prevent Blindness tested 617 children, from age six months upward, with 62 being referred for further testing by an optometrist. The Lions help man the gates at the Chisholm Schools BB Wheat Capital Tournament. The Club collects items for the Battered Women at the YWCA Crisis Center, good clothing, make-up, etc. The women with their children usually arrive at the Center with only the clothes they are wearing. Lion Marshall Ward received the "Rookie of the Year" award and Lion Chuck Osgood is the "Lion of the Year." Lion Mary Bailey received a Melvin Jones Fellowship for her efforts of always volunteering for the Clubs projects. There are seventeen "Melvin Jones" Fellows in the Club. The Club is attempting to raise $3,000 for scholarships to be awarded in May 2013 to graduating seniors. They have donated $500 to the Boys Ranch, $250 to the Eye Bank, $225 to Briggs Scholarship Fund, $325 to the Leader Dogs, Hearing Dogs and LWSB.

LAVERNE LIONS CLUB has donated $1,000 to the Laverne Centennial Committee for use in their upcoming Centennial celebration festivities. They are securing a date in April to bring the Lions Mobile Health Screening Unit to Laverne. They have an approval to park the Unit in the parking lot at the front of the Health Department. They have submitted the winning poster of 47 renditions to the District Peace Poster contest. The Club agreed to order additional nuts to sell: cashews, pecans, sweet and sour trail mix and spicy mix. This fund raising project continues. Their Lions Hwy Sign has been received and awaits being posted.

BURLINGTON LIONS CLUB again reports 21 members plus one honorary member. They added a new member, Josh Bellemy, but dropped Travis Bradshaw. They had a successful gun raffle and did make some profit. They continue to meet, greet, eat and adjourn.

The Lions Board of Directors approved undertaking the project of raising funds for the purchase of Lunch-room Tables with attached stools, for the Fairview Grade School. The cost per table is just under $1,100. One has been purchased and a donation has been received for a second. They plan to replace all of the twelve existing tables. ### CLUB NEWS

Davenport: 10 Members sold Tickets for the February 9, Chili and Bean Super we provided for the FFA.

Edmond: Collected used eyeglasses to be recycled.

Norman Sooner: Lion Clouston reported we processed 9 eyeglass requests and provided students with 5 eye exams and glasses. Lions Donaldson reported on the first steam boat expedition down the Mississippi. He provided details and history which was quite informative and interesting.

Prague: We held our Annual Chili Supper. We attribute the success to ticket pre sales. The funds raised will help fund a scholarship to a deserving Prague High School Senior.

Stillwater Noon: There were 4 requests for eyeglasses. Two pairs of eyeglasses were purchased at a cost of $85 each. We continue to recycle eyeglasses to send to other nations for those in need. There were 45 Noon Lions and their guests who celebrated Valentines Day with a dinner, followed by attendance at a play produced by the Town and Gown community theater. Ink cartridges and cell phones and hearing aides continue to be recycled. Two Stillwater High School students are being honored by our club as January students of the month. They meet with club members report on activities in Stillwater High School. A program was presented on the history of the Stillwater Noon Lions Club and the service projects we have developed, including a bicycle safety program, road signs for rural areas and a community-wide July 4th celebration. A club member talked to members about his medical mission trip to Zambia, Africa. The Stillwater Medical Center Vice President explained new programs being developed by the hospital.

Stroud: One individual requested assistance with glasses. We provided the exam and it turned out he needed eye surgery that would be paid by medicare. Spent $300 to provide eye exams and glasses for youth requested by the school. Had programs on the Lincoln County tax issue; the Red Cross and their newly donated vehicles for relief work; and a local PA on healthcare.

House Happenings

By Colleen Fowler

Only 3 weeks till spring break!!!!!! Twelve weeks till schools out!!! We are ready for summer!

We have one young man getting ready to graduate this year so we have been in the midst of caps & gowns, filling out his fafsa, trying to find him a decent car to buy...plus the daily challenges he faces as a senior such as getting all his credits and planning for the future. We are very proud of him! Also we have had the opportunity at both houses to pick up trash on the Highway to earn some extra cash! We alternate every other month and although there is at first griping and complaining...It always ends up with the boys being proud of how it looks and taking ownership of "Their Road" It's hilarious to hear them fuss at another vehicle for throwing out trash and littering when a few months ago that could have been them! At the Cedars we are going to use the $$ to enhance our vacation fund! We are already looking ahead for vacations, hiking trips, fishing and Frisbee Golf. Trips to the lake and the zoo and the pool are part of our summer fun too. But for now we have Prom, finals and job searching as well as shopping for spring/summer clothes and anticipating summer camp. I guess because it's so cold and we have been inside so much, we've been talking a lot about summer plans and adventures. If and when we thaw out (in Oklahoma that could be a matter of hours) we will search for sunshine and just enjoy being together. Thanks for your love and support! Come Visit when you can! Blessings!
