In the seventeenth century he gave the decorative part to the antipporta and it seems to you the advertising indications referred to the publisher, once reserved for Colophon. The looks are high of paper different from that of the interior of the volume and can be white, colorful or decorated with motifs (in ancient books they were marbled). It is therefore logical to believe that the same frequency is used for Codex when it becomes available. ^ Northvegr - Sacred Language Lexicon: B Filed 03/11/2008 by the original (EN) ^ Paccagnella, L. Upon arrival of the Middle Ages, about half a millennium after, the codes - of Foggia and construction in all similar to the modern book - They lavished the roll and were mainly composed of parchment. With the appearance of the universities, the culture of the manuscript of the dominant era to an increase in the request for books and therefore a new system for their copy was wise. Colophon the same topic in detail: Colophon. From the Renaissance to the industrial revolution, (curators) Charles Singer et al. Books are therefore literary works. His debut was modest. In the latter cases, there is talk of "color cut", in the past used to distinguish religious or valuable books from the remaining editorial production, using a sponge soaked in inking inks (70-80 years of the twentieth century). [40] Since the late nineties subsequently they bring in the bowl with water-based colors. The great advantage they defined compared to the rolls was the capacity, the advantage that arose from the fact that the external facade of the roll was left in white, desert. As a creative good, the book reflects an identity value of a social and collective nature, marking a collectiveness: it is possible to consider a symbolic product (in the etymological sense of symbolic: the Greek i town i isisi disrupted >ute ( standambolon), from which the adjective i town ... isisi disrupted >999i (Sumboliká's), derives from the verb i town ... isisi onasure "377. Sometimes the parchment was all purple color and the text was written there in gold or silver (for example, the Codex Argenteus). With the mechanization and spread of the typographic industry, other types of ligatures and blankets are introduced, more economic and suitable for automatic processes. On the other hand, based on the annotations of Libanio, an intellectual of the 4th century who in his multiple activities was also the legal teacher, it is learned that the textbooks of his students were parchment codes. Frontispiece The same topic in detail: frontispiece. The roll continues to be used for documents and the like, scriptures of the sort that are ordered in screen or archives, but the Codex had supremacy in literature, scientific studies, technical manuals, and thus away, writings of the sort that came placed in libraries. According to the Jewish tradition, the rolling of the Torah placed in the synagogue must be written by hand on parchment and therefore a printed book is not allowed, although the congregation can use printed prayers and copies of the Jewish Bible can be used for study outside the synagogue. Born with purely practical functions such as the protection of the blocking of the cards and allowing the consultability, the blanket takes on different functions and meanings over time, not least the aesthetic and representative meanings. It is deduced that the first writings of the Indo-European languages may have been carved on beech wood. [6] In a similar way, the Latin word Codes/Code, with the meaning of book in the modern sense (bound and with separate pages), originally meant "wood block". La loro utilitA A pratica A A evidente in libri cartonati, o rilegati in tela, pelle o pergamena, dove aiutano a tenere unita la coperta rigida al blocco del libro. Col metodo di controllo, solo gli autori potevano autorizzare le copie, e questo veniva fatto in riunioni pubbliche, in cui il copista leggeva il testo ad alta voce in presenza dell'autore, il quale poi la certificava come precisa".[30] Con questo sistema di lettura controllata, "un autore poteva produrre una dozzina o piA' A copie di una data lettura e, con due o piA' A letture, piA' A di cento copie di un singolo libro potevano essere facilmente prodotte."[31] Xilografia In xilografia, un'immagine a bassorilievo di una pagina intera veniva intagliata su tavolette di legno, inchiostrata e usata per stampare le copie di quella pagina. / Quattuor est nimium? 38-44. L"ex libris" A A un foglietto che veniva (e talvolta viene ancora) incollato all'interno della copertina di un libro per indicarne, con uno stemma araldico o un'immagine simbolica, il proprietario. Storia, tecnica, struttura. Il papiro divenne difficile da reperire a causa della mancanza di contatti con l'Antico Egitto e la pergamena, che per secoli era stata tenuta in secondo piano, divenne il materiale di scrittura principale. Il codice invece aveva scritto entrambe le facciate di ogni pagina, come in un libro moderno. Ciascuno dei due cartoni che costituiscono la copertina viene chiamato piatto.
