

How to move a video from your phone to your computer

 I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

VIDEOS/MOVIES TO IPHONE

How do i move videos from my phone to my computer. How to move a video file from iphone to pc. How do you transfer a video from your phone to a computer.

Using the application photos and a USB cable, you can send photos and videos to the computer. iCloud photos also allow you to share photos on all your devices. iCloud photos, photos and videos can be used on all Apple devices, on iCloud.com, and even on a computer - current, current and automatic. If you use iCloud photos, you don't have to transfer photos from one iCloud to another. iCloud Photos always sends and saves original photos in full resolution. You can keep the originals in full resolution on each of your devices or instead of optimized versions of devices. Either way, you can always download the originals. Any organizational changes or changes you introduce are always valid on all your Apple devices. Learn how to install and use iCloud photos. Photos and videos you take in iCloud photos take up space in iCloud. Before you open iCloud photos, make sure you have enough space in iCloud to store the entire collection. You can see how much space you need and expand the disk space plan if necessary. You can send photos and video to the Mac by connecting a device to a Mac. However, if you use iCloud photos, you don't have to import them to transfer them to the Mac. Open the photo application on your computer. The photo application displays the import screen with all photos and movies on the connected device. If the internal transmission screen does not appear automatically, tap the name of the device on the sidebar of the photo. If a prompt appears, open the lock on a device with iOS or iPadOS using the access code. If a device with iOS or iPadOS displays a prompt to trust this computer, click Trust to continue. Choose a place where you want to move your photos. Next to the "Introduction" option, you can choose an existing album or create a new one. Choose photos you want to move and click "selected" or focus on all new photos. Wait for the end of the process and then disconnect the device from the Mac. After connecting the device to your computer, you can send photos to your computer using the latest version of iTunes on your computer. iTunes 12.5.1 or newer is required to send photos to a computer. Connect the iPhone or iPad to the computer with a USB cable. If a prompt appears, open the lock on a device with iOS or iPadOS using the access code. If on a device with iOS or iPadOS you see a prompt to trust this computer, tap the Trust or Then visit the Microsoft website and learn how to import photos to the Windows Photos program on Windows 10. If the iCloud Photos is on, before importing to your computer. When importing videos from iOS or iPadOS device to your computer, some videos may not be able to rotate properly in Windows photo app. You can add these videos to iTunes and allow them in the right direction. Follow the following steps to keep the photos from the iOS or iPadOS device as possible: Open the settings program on the iOS or iPadOS device. Click "Camera" then "Formats". Click the most compatible. From now on, your camera will create photos and videos in JPEG and H.264. Information on non-Apple products or independent websites that Apple do not control or test, are provided without approval or approval. Apple is not responsible for the choice, operation or use of third-party websites or products. Apple does not guarantee the accuracy or reliability of third party sites. Contact your seller to get more information. Ready? Thanks for the reply. You can use a Google Account or USB cable to move photos, music and other files from your computer to phone and vice versa. Windows PC Unlock your phone. Connect your phone to your computer with a USB cable. Tap the "Recharge this device via USB" on your phone. Select "File Transfer" in the USB section. The file transmission window will open on your computer. Use it for the file to drag. Remove your phone from Windows after finishing. Disconnect the USB cable. Mac OS X 10.5 or newer version must operate on the Mac. Download and install Android File Transfer on your computer. Open your Android file transfer program. It will be opened automatically when you connect your phone next time. Unlock your phone. Connect your phone to your computer with a USB cable. Tap the "Recharge this device via USB" on your phone. Select "File Transfer" in the USB section. The Chromebook device will open a file program. Use Compress files. Find out what types of files in your Chromebook work. Disconnect the USB cable when you have finished. Removing Windows from your computer outside the zone Check your computer settings and make sure Windows automatically recognizes new hardware. Restart the computer. Remove your phone from your phone. Try a USB connector, try another USB cable. Not all USB cables can transmit files. To test the USB phone port, connect your device to another computer. To test the USB computer port, connect another device to your computer. Remove MAC settings to start Mac OS X 10.5 and newer on your computer. Make sure your computer is installed, run and open. Restart the computer. Remove your phone from your phone. Try a USB connector, try another USB cable. Not all USB cables can transmit files. To test the USB phone port, connect your phone to another computer. To test the USB computer port, connect another device to your computer. Find the contacts downloaded using import to your phone. Ask the community for help and get answers from community experts on how to download a big video from iPhone to your computer? How to transfer a big video from the iPhone to your computer? This is a 30-minute video too big for iCloud. - iPhone's question we use the iPhone to record unforgettable moments of our everyday life. Yet these videos take a lot of space: 4K video from the iPhone with iPhone can have 400 MB per minute. Now you will find that your iPhone is running out, so you want to transfer the video from the iPhone to your computer to release space. The iCloud offers only 5 GB for free, so it will not help recording big videos. Then you can think about the e-mail. By e-mail, but there is a message that the video needs to be cut or reduced. The video seems too big to record. In fact, the e-mail supports only files up to 25 MB. Well, don't worry, there are several ways to help you transfer big videos from iPhone to your computer and fix these limitations. Let's start with the simplest and fastest ways. One free Fonetool translation tool for iPhone will help you do everything on a few clicks. This can help transfer video of any size from iPhone to computer without reducing video quality. In addition, you can transmit photographic videos, movies and music videos. Now download the Fonetool to your computer. Follow the steps below. We'll show you how to get big videos/videos from the iPhone to your computer. 1. Connect the iPhone source to your computer-> Enter the access code on the iPhone on your phone to give your computer access to your device. 2. Start Fonetool. Click on your phone transfer and select the iPhone on your computer. 3. Click "+"> Select video transmission (video photography will be stored in photos while other videos will be stored in videos)> Click OK to continue. 4. Click "Start"> "Select Street" and click "Transfer" to save the video to your computer. Type 2: Transfer a large video from iPhone to PC using Windows Explorer when you connect the iPhone to your computer. iPhone finds a folder for DCIM. Your computer recognizes your device as a digital camera and you can easily open and copy and paste photos into your computer. 1. Connect your iPhone to your computer-> Trust this computer on your iPhone. 2. Go to your computer or this computer and open your iPhone> Double-Double iPhone> Internal Storage. 3. Then you will see the DCIM folder> open this folder and see the video stored in the camera, copy it and insert it into your computer. Type 3: Transfer a large video from iPhone to PC with photos for Windows 10 and Windows 8/8.1. With Photo Manager, you can carefully copy videos from your iPhone to your computer. Below are steps to send large video files from iPhone with photos to PC. 1. Start the Photo app and connect your iPhone to your computer using the USB cable. 2. Enter the access code on the iPhone on the phone and click "Trust" when you see the prompt. 3. Click "Import"> "Select" from USB> Click "Import Settings" and you can change the target. After importing items from the iPhone to your computer, decide whether to remove the items. 4. Take more photos and videos that you do not want to import. Finally, click Import. Type 4: Transfer a big video from iPhone to PC using Google. You can also use cloud services to send big videos from the iPhone to your computer. First, download the video on the iPhone on your phone using Google Disk and download the video to your computer. 1. Download the Google disk from the App Store> Open it and sign it with your account. 2. Tap the "+" in the lower right corner of the program> Update> Take> Take videos and videos> Select the videos you want to upload Google Drive. 3. At the end, you can touch the link to find or move to the folder you select when downloading the videos. Therefore, you can choose to share the video connection with yourself by email. By email and check it on your computer. Alternatively, you can open your browser on your PC and Google Drive or Google photos to check the video. Method 5. Big iPhone video move to a computer with Snapdrop. This allows users to move files between different platforms. Go to the Snapdrop website ( and run the site on your computer and iPhone. The computer screen will define your iPhone and your iPhone will define a computer browser. Tap the icon on your iPhone screen and you will have three options: Take a photo or video to move, go to the photo book cabinet to select photos/video or check other device files. Identify the option of choosing the great video you want to send to your computer, and the transfer will start immediately. At the end of the transfer, you can click Download to save the video on your computer. The result is related to large video files from iPhone to a computer. You can try the Fonetool app, Windows Explorer or photo to get fantastic videos using USB. Or if you want to send great videos in wireless mode from iPhone to your computer, it's a way to go to Google Drive and Snapdrop. However, on the other hand, Fonetool is the fastest and easiest tool to hand over great videos. As a professional iPhone transmission software, Fonetool, move videos from your computer to iPhone and photos, videos, people and more. It also helps you send. Between the iPhone and the computer, a computer

