

at

What is 'At'?

'At' is a preposition that is used to show a specific location or position in a sentence. It is a very common preposition in the English language and is used in a variety of contexts.

Usage of 'At'

- Location: 'At' is used to indicate a specific location or position. For example, "I am at the park" or "She is waiting at the bus stop".
- Time: 'At' is also used to indicate a specific point in time. For example, "The meeting is at 3 o'clock" or "We will leave at dawn".
- Events: 'At' is used to specify events or occasions. For example, "I saw him at the concert" or "I met her at the party".

Examples of 'At' in Sentences

1. She is at the airport waiting for her flight.
2. The book is at the top of the shelf.
3. We will meet at the restaurant for dinner.
4. They arrived at the same time.
5. The keys are at the front desk.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the preposition 'at' is a versatile and essential part of the English language. It helps to specify locations, times, and events in a sentence, making communication more precise and clear. Mastering the usage of 'at' can greatly improve one's English language skills.