Clash of Clans starts with a large amount of gems; while you'll need to spend about half of them to complete the tutorial, you'll have the remaining gems left over. It can be tempting to throw these gems at as many items as possible, but keeping storage in mind is a great way to start the game off on the right foot.[2] Gems should also not be used to buy raw materials or reduce construction time. Again, patience is your friend when trying to build your gem inventory. 2 Get Clash of Clans achievements. Achievements are probably the most profitable way to get gems, as unlocking all three levels of each achievement will give you about $100 worth of gems. You can see the list of Clash of Clans achievements and their requirements here. Just connect Clash of Clans to Google Play Store and you will get 50 gems. Once an achievement is unlocked, tap the current level in the top left corner of the screen and then tap Get Rewards next to the achievement to add reward gems to your inventory. 3 Remove obstructions if possible. You can remove an obstacle such as a tree or rock by tapping on it and confirming your selection. This will give you different amounts of gems from 0 to 6. Some obstacles like trees will appear every 8 hours. Gems do not regenerate, so consider removing them after clearing an obstacle that earned you 0 gems. This will almost always ensure that you get at least 1 stone cleaning gem. 4. Create and upgrade a gem mine. Pouring elixirs into building a gem mine might seem like an odd way to spend your hard-earned resources, but a gem mine will automatically reward you with at least 2 gems per day whether you're playing or not.[3] You will need to refresh the gems regularly depending on the level of the gem mine. For example, a level 1 gem mine can have a maximum of 10 gems before it stops producing. When you get your gems, the gem mine can resume production. At its highest level, a gem mine can store up to 18 gems.[4] 5. Use Google Opinion Rewards. Google Rewards is an Android app that allows you to take small surveys and earn between $0.10 and $1. If you fill out enough surveys, you'll earn the money you need to buy more gems. This isn't a hack, but rather a relatively quick way to earn a small sum of money to make friends with when buying gems. Google Appreciation Awards can be downloaded for free from the Google Play Store.
